Here's News! Baby Bites Dog

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 26.—(UP)—If there's truth to be found in one of journalism's oldest axioms, a three-year-old boy and his dog had made news here today.

A frantic father appeared at the rabies division of the city health department.

"It's about my baby and his dog," the man faltered.

"Oh," responded a clerk, "Your baby has been bitten and his dog, and I want to know if the baby should be examined."

"Nope, the baby got mad and bit the dog, and I want to know if the baby should be examined."

CHARGE TRUCK FIRMS RAISED ARMY FIGURES

Official of General Motors Denies Contracts Were Increased

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(UP)—Charges that certain automobile companies raised their bids for army truck contracts after the Ford Motor company was barred from government business, were denied today in a letter from a General Motors corporation official to the house military affairs investigating committee.

J. B. Woodside, Washington manager for the General Motors Fleet corporation, wrote the committee that orders had been issued by the executive vice-president of GMC as soon as it was learned that Ford would no longer be a competitor.

"That no division of the corporation would take advantage of that situation," J. B. Woodside, Washington manager for the General Motors Fleet corporation, wrote the committee that orders had been issued by the executive vice-president of GMC as soon as it was learned that Ford would no longer be a competitor.

"Any statements," Woodside's letter said, "made to the effect that the Chevrolet Motor Co. or the General Motors corporation have increased prices since the Ford Motor Co. was declared ineligible to bid by reason of not having furnished a certificate to the effect that they were complying with the NRA is without foundation in fact and undoubtedly made with a view to prejudicing the minds of the committee against General Motors corporation."

It also was brought out that in at least one case motor trucks of the Civilian Conservation corps had been damaged through acts of sabotage.

Col. E. F. Miller told the committee he had received word from Fort Riley, Kan., in December, 1933, that 12 small Dodge trucks used by the CCC had broken down shortly after being put in use. Miller said examination of the motors showed that an abrasive solution, containing crystalline sand had been found in the pan residue of all the motors.

Questioned regarding the increased costs under NRA, Maj. Gen. Louis B. Bash, recently appointed quartermaster general, testified he did not believe having of Ford from army bids had any appreciable effects on costs to the army.

Roosevelt Goes On Air On Thursday

President Will Review His Stewardship in Twenty Minute Address

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(UP)—President Roosevelt will make a 20-minute radio talk Thursday evening in which he will give a general review of his stewardship of the government, it was learned at the White House today.

His speech, which will be broadcast over both major radio networks, will be a general and final review of events in the government prior to his departure for Hawaii. He is scheduled to begin speaking at 9:30 p. m., EST.

Thursday's speech is expected to be the last major address by the president before he returns to the west coast. On his eastward cross-country trip several speeches are scheduled, but none of these will have any political significance, the White House said.

The president let it be known that he intends to take no part in the election campaign which will be gathering momentum at the time he returns to the United States.

The president returned to Washington today to find his desk piled high with approximately 200 bills passed by congress just before his adjournment, on which he must act before leaving the United States.

He has taken no action as yet on the major bills including the Frazier-Lemke farm moratorium bill, the railroad pension bill, and others of importance. He expects to act on all bills before Thursday night.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(UP)—A serious split in the cabinet and the ABC political party whose untiring underground work was a principal factor in the overthrow of Gerardo Machado, presented Cuba today with the prospect of months more of political unrest.

The four ABC members of the cabinet resigned last night in protest against the government's failure to end terrorism.

It was understood Alfredo Botet, a leader in the ABC, had refused to abandon the government and would form a new wing of the party. Previously Maj. Carlos Menendez, chief of the ABC "militia" which comprises its shock troops, announced he and his men would continue in support of the government.

Months ago a section of the ABC party split and organized itself as the ABC radical wing.

There are now three ABC sections—radical, moderate and conservative.

The four who resigned were Dr. Oquinn Martinez Saez, secretary of treasury; Dr. Carlos Saladrigas, secretary of justice; Jorge Manach, secretary of education and Emeterio Santovenia, secretary of the presidency. Martinez Saez and Saladrigas, particularly, are

NEW COUNCIL DITCHES ECONOMY PROGRAM; VOTES MONEY FROM TREASURY; INCREASES EXPENSE

THE RE-ORGANIZED city council, which is now functioning with only one of the five members elected at the last city election in the person of E. G. Warner, who was named mayor last night, has loosened the city's purse strings and resumed the practice of making cash donations to favored groups and organizations with only Councilman A. F. LeGaye raising his voice in protest on behalf of the taxpayers, and working against needless expenditures.

This was evidenced in the grant last night of $200 to the mess fund of the National Guard units, so the members could have ice cream and other food luxuries, aprons and caps for a cook, and "other things they might desire," while they are at summer camp.

It was also shown that vigilance in keeping expenses at a minimum was to be relaxed in the council's action in appointing two new members of the city fire department, although Fire Chief John Luxembourg previously had reported to the council that he would not have hired them himself.

The matter was precipitated early in the meeting when a request was read for a donation of $200 to the National Guard mess fund, with recommendations in favor of it by directors of the

French Demands

Sources which usually reflect the French admiralty view told the United Press in Paris that France within the next few days will make "big navy" demands that will rouse both Italy and Germany.

It was added that the demands might be regarded as so large that Japan would have to protest on the ground that her ratio as compared with France and Italy would be endangered.

British and American experts were preparing to resume their conversations here.

What was described as the "shock" by which America's delegates received the outline of British demands.

LOS ANGELES, June 26.—(UP)—An early start in construction of the Parker dam unit of the Colorado river aqueduct was predicted today with the arrival here of the first copies of specifications for the work.

POLICE ARREST 168 AS LEWD SHOW RAIDED

LOS ANGELES, June 26.—(UP)—Following one of the largest and most sensational morals raids ever staged by local police 168 men were to be arraigned in Lincoln Heights court late today on charges of conducting an indecent show, attending such a performance, and gambling.

The entire audience, with the exception of one woman, attired in male clothing, was arrested last night when police crashed into the performance at the North Star auditorium.

The lone woman spectator became hysterical and was released. Police asserted that an immoral motion picture was being shown while a group of men were gambling in an adjoining room.

After a first sudden break for the exits, which were guarded by twenty members of the vice squad, the spectators were herded together pending arrival of a virtually every patrol wagon in the service.

Jack Ryan, 29, a painter, and George Flynn, 25, a comedian, were charged with operating an indecent motion picture and conducting an indecent show and were released on bail of $1000 each.

Of the others, 161 were charged with attending an indecent performance and five were charged with gambling. They were released on bail of $10 each.

The raiders seized a quantity of gambling equipment. Proprietors of the auditorium rented the hall in "good faith," police said and were not involved.

Board of Supervisors Wait Recommendation Regarding Labor Conditions

EL CENTRO, Cal., June 26.—(UP)—Removal from office of B. A. Harrigan, Imperial county agricultural commissioner, is essential in bringing an end to labor troubles in the Imperial valley, Pelham D. Glassford, for three months federal labor conciliator in the valley, told the Imperial county board of supervisors in a list of recommendations made public late today.

Harrigan, Glassford charged, has not made fair use of his office and authority but has helped growers stifle labor.

EL CENTRO, Cal., June 26.—(UP)—The Imperial county board of supervisors today awaited a list of recommendations regarding labor conditions which General Pelham D. Glassford said he sent them before leaving here Sunday.

General Glassford served for three months as federal labor conciliator for the department of labor in connection with strikes by Imperial valley agricultural workers.

On leaving Brawley, General Glassford issued the following statement:

"In leaving Imperial valley I am submitting to the Imperial county board of supervisors recommendations based upon more than two months of observation and investigation.

"The recommendations are believed to be of vital importance to the community and call for vigorous action.

"They cover, first, the essential steps necessary to establish better labor conditions, and second, the procedure necessary to prevent a continuance of organized lawlessness and intimidation.

"This lawlessness and intimidation is directed not only against alleged communists, but also against those professional and business men of the community, who by word or deed oppose the political or economic aims of a small but powerful group, engaged in exploiting a 'Red' hysteria for the promotion of its own interests.

"The immediate responsibility for action and results rests with the elected officials of Imperial valley.

"The truth concerning acts of lawlessness has been distorted or suppressed.

"When the facts are known, which is the function of county officials to investigate and reveal, I am confident that the people of Imperial valley will insist upon aggressive remedial action."

GETTLE THREATENED IN EXTORTION PLOT

LOS ANGELES, June 26.—(UP)—Letters threatening to bomb the home of William F. Gettle, once rescued from kidnapers, unless he paid a $5000 ransom today were branded by department of justice agents as the work of "cranks."

The federal officials reached that conclusion today after having received that Gettle, following instructions, placed a package in downtown Westlake park after officers had carefully surrounded the designated spot.

Two persons who innocently walked into the suspected area were questioned and released, officers said. No further letters have been received by the Beverly Hills millionaire.

One of the extortion letters was said to have declared that the $5000 was to be used as an "atone-mment fund" for two women now serving time in a federal prison for complicity in the kidnaping of Gettle for ransom of $50,000 which was never paid. Three men, convicted of the kidnaping, are serving life terms.

ABC Members Quit in Protest Over Failure to Halt Terrorism

Pre-conference Conversations Being Held by All Interested Nations

LONDON, June 26.—(UP)—President naval conversations, carefully planned as informal and preliminary, seemed certain today to go on record as the Unplanned 1934 Naval Conference.

To the confusion caused by the presentation of an informal British big navy program, there was added today the news that Japan and France will make the conversations the occasion for presentation of demands of their own.

A United Press Tokyo dispatch said the Japanese government, apparently anxious over the way things were going, would rush to London a delegation of sufficient strength to deal with "substantial" subjects.

French Demands

Sources which usually reflect the French admiralty view told the United Press in Paris that France within the next few days will make "big navy" demands that will rouse both Italy and Germany.

It was added that the demands might be regarded as so large that Japan would protest on the ground that her ratio as compared with France and Italy would be endangered.

British and American experts were preparing to resume their conversations here.

What was described as the "shock" with which America's delegates received the outline of British demands.

MAE WEST'S LATEST PICTURE IS BANNED

NEW YORK, June 26.—(UP)—The reported banning by New York state censors of Mae West's latest film, "It Ain't No Sin" could not be confirmed here today but a producer's office, Paramount-Public corporation, later in the day, Irving Edmond, director of the motion picture division of the state education department, declined to discuss the report, saying it was not the practice of his division to make public any bans or censorship of films.

GUARDSMEN ORDERED PREPARE FOR "EMERGENCY" AS COAST STRIKE TENSION INCREASES

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—(UP)—National guardsmen were ordered to "prepare for any emergency" today as tension gripped Pacific coast ports while Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady made a final effort for peace without bloodshed in the coastwide maritime workers' strike.

Adjutant General Seth E. Howard of the California national guard issued an order for emergency mobilization instruction of guardsmen.

He said the order was "routine," but his "preparedness" manifesto was considered significant since Gov. Frank Merriam has said he would take steps to end the strike, which has deadlocked coast ports since May 9, if federal mediation failed.

Director To Be Selected On Thursday

Twenty-two Men Report for Work on Fullerton Jr. College Stadium

SELECTION of a man for the important post of director of the Orange county SERA will take place at a special meeting of the county SERA committee Thursday night at 6:15 o'clock, it was learned today as the first SERA project in the county got under way today. It was a unit of the proposed program calling for a total expenditure of $194,591.78, all of which has not yet been approved, however.

Twenty-two men went to work today on the first SERA project in the county to receive approval. This was the completion of the $50,000 stadium at Fullerton district junior college, started under the CWA. More men will be employed on this project as soon as machinery begins to function more smoothly.

At the same time it was learned from Dan Mulherson, construction superintendent of the works division, that 27 projects have

Early Start On Parker Dam Assured

LOS ANGELES, June 26.—(UP)—An early start in construction of the Parker dam unit of the Colorado river aqueduct was predicted today with the arrival here of the first copies of specifications for the work.

The $13,000,000 dam will be built 150 miles down the Colorado river from Boulder dam and will divert a part of the river water into the aqueduct.

The dam, 340 feet high and 800 feet long, will form a reservoir 50 miles in length, Metropolitan Water district officials said.

Bids on the structure will be received until July 26 by the U. S. Bureau of reclamation in Los Angeles.

POLICE ARREST 168 AS LEWD SHOW RAIDED

Los Angeles Officers Descend on Gambling and Dance Resort

LOS ANGELES, June 26.—(UP)—Following one of the largest and most sensational moral raids ever staged by local police 168 men were to be arraigned in Lincoln Heights court late today on charges of conducting an indecent show, attending such a performance, and gambling.

The entire audience, with the exception of one woman, attired in male clothing, was arrested last night when police crashed into the performance at the North Star auditorium.

The lone woman spectator became hysterical and was released.

Police asserted that an immoral motion picture was being shown while a group of men were gambling in an adjoining room.

After a first sudden break for the exits, which were guarded by twenty members of the vice squad, the spectators were herded together pending arrival of virtually every patrol wagon in the service.

Jack Ryan, 29, a painter, and George Flynn, 25, a comedian, were charged with operating an indecent motion picture and conducting an indecent show and were released on bail of $1000 each.

Of the others, 161 were charged with attending an indecent performance and five were charged with gambling. They were released on bail of $10 each.

The raiders seized a quantity of gambling equipment. Proprietors of the auditorium rented the hall in "good faith," police said and were not involved.

COLLEGE STUDENT COMMITS SUICIDE

LITTLETON, Colo., June 26.—(UP)—Herbert Sapp, 23, former University of Oklahoma student, committed suicide by taking poison because of disappointment in failing to win favor of a Littleton girl, his friends said today.

His body was found in his hotel room yesterday by Darlene Ewing, daughter of the proprietor of the hotel.

She said the youth had brooded over his unsatisfactory love affair and had blamed it on a scar on his face. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sapp of Miami, Okla., were enroute here.

BOSTON BANKER TO HELP MORGENTHAU

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(UP)—A Boston banker, barely 40 years old and a newcomer in public office, has been selected by Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., to guide the financial affairs of the nation when he leaves on a month's vacation in the Montana wilds next week.

The new acting head of the treasury is Thomas Jefferson Coolidge, distant relative of former President Calvin Coolidge, and a lineal descendant of Thomas Jefferson, father of the Democratic party.

Coolidge has been handling the fiscal affairs of the treasury.

CATHOLIC PRIEST MURDERED IN CHINA

HONG KONG, June 26.—(UP)—Word was received by the Dominican mission today from Santuario in southern Fukien province that the Rev. Father Urbano Merz, a young priest who came to China in 1932 from New Orleans, had been murdered by communists.

Father Merz was captured two weeks ago when the seminary in southern Fukien had been occupied by the communists.

At the same time it was announced that all hope had been abandoned for the life of Father Bravo, also of the Dominican order, who was captured on Jan. 25.

Boards Will Be Selected Late Today

Roosevelt's Return to Capital to Be Followed by New Deal Appointments

PECORA MENTIONED

Prosecutor May be Named to Head Stock Exchange Board, Reports Declare

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's return to the capital today was expected to be followed quickly with appointment of the men who will administer the latest new deal legislation as passed by the 73rd congress.

These appointments must be made by the president before he can shut up shop for his cruise to Hawaii.

Seven-man communications commission.

Housing administrator.

Departmental foreign trade committees.

Possible arbitration boards for steel and Pacific Coast longshoremen's labor disputes.

The eyes of the business world were on the president as he pondered his decisions, certain to have a profound effect on the nation's trade in ensuing months.

Mention Pecora

Most speculation centered on the securities commission with James M. Landis and George C. Matthews of the federal trade commission.

Ferdinand Pecora, special counsel in the senate banking investigation, and Baldwin B. Bane of the trade commission personnel mentioned most frequently. It was thought likely that one or two places on the board would be given to men previously connected with stock exchange management.

The membership of the communications commission was more uncertain. Eugene O. Sykes, present radio commission chairman, is believed Mr. Roosevelt's choice to head the new body. The other three radio commissioners, however, are expected to be dropped.

Harry L. Hopkins, present relief administrator, is thought a certain choice for the housing post.

No indication has been given as to the foreign trade committees. The groups will be important, however, in the development of the "Yankee trading" policy under the new reciprocal tariff law.

The question of arbitration boards for the two bitter labor disputes depends upon the success of conciliation efforts being made by Secretary of Labor

GUARDSMEN ORDERED PREPARE FOR "EMERGENCY" AS COAST STRIKE TENSION INCREASES

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—(UP)—National guardsmen were ordered to "prepare for any emergency" today as tension gripped Pacific coast ports while Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady made a final effort for peace without bloodshed in the coastwide maritime workers' strike.

Adjutant General Seth E. Howard of the California national guard issued an order for emergency mobilization instruction of guardsmen.

He said the order was "routine," but his "preparedness" manifesto was considered significant since Gov. Frank Merriam has said he would take steps to end the strike, which has deadlocked coast ports since May 9, if federal mediation failed.

McGrady was to face employers and union chiefs today in a final peace conference.

Tension and violence prevailed from San Francisco to Seattle as the groups conferred here.

Two hundred "k" strikers battled 75 Oakland police early today when the strikers stormed the outer Oakland harbor.

Police used tear gas and clubs to disperse the mob. Six strikers were arrested.

At Seattle 200 longshoremen abducted a strikebreaker, beat a suspect and slugged a deputy sheriff

JAPAN, FRANCE WILL PRESENT NAVY DEMANDS

Japan's naval needs were somewhat relieved by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, who intimated the needs would arise only in the event the present naval treaties were not renewed.

The way was left open for the United States to suggest a revised program, based on the possibility that the 1935 naval conference would succeed.

Sends Delegation
The news that Japan intended to send a strong delegation to London seemed to reflect concern over the British demands.

France's plan to demand more ships was a reflection of its anxiety over the possibility of German rearmament and a desire to protect both its Atlantic and Mediterranean coasts.

It was hinted that France would demand as much naval tonnage as Italy and Germany had combined.

Under the Washington naval treaties France and Italy had equal tonnage in big ships. They could not agree at the 1930 conference in London, at which auxiliary ships were limited.

Italy has shown no sign that it will accept a lower ratio than France, as France demands, and France is in no mood to make further disarmament concessions on land or sea.

Germany is yet to be heard from, but has announced that it insists on being included in any naval conference with the understanding that the sharp limitations imposed by the Versailles treaty shall be altered.

"Mahatma" is a Sanskrit word meaning "great soul."

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 26. (To the Editor of The Register.) The pictures of Hitler and Mussolini are pouring in on us from the press now, and every one of 'em keep looking more like they are going to bite each other.

Sure glad to see where William Allen White had received the high award for Americanism. He is a mighty clear-thinking man. That Kansas has more real newspapermen than all the rest of the States combined.

Mr. Roosevelt attended a meeting of Tammany Hall leaders. First time Tammany Hall's name has come up in months. I kinder thought they had given up their franchise.

NEW RECORD MADE IN GLIDER FLIGHT

ELMIRA, N. Y., June 26.—(UP)—Disatisfied with his feat of breaking the world's record for sustained glider flight by almost 20 miles, Richard C. du Pont planned to take off in his motorless plane again today in an effort to establish a record that would stand for a long time.

Du Pont soared 155 miles over Allegheny mountain ridges from Elmira to Somerset Hills, N. J., airport, yesterday, bettering the record of 136 miles set in Germany in 1931 by Guenther Groenhoff.

He returned his Albatross II here today.

Du Pont is the son of Felix du Pont of Wilmington, Del.

Convicted Here, Seeks Probation From San Quentin

Robert O. Gruwell, 40, who was convicted here March 9 on charges of violating the Corporate Securities act, applied to Governor Frank F. Merriam today for a pardon, claiming probation for the probation officer, according to dispatches from Sacramento.

Gruwell, as manager of the Goldconda Mining company, was selling bonds to John E. Phillips without a permit from the corporation commission. The transaction took place in February, 1931, and involved $900. Gruwell was sentenced to San Quentin to serve one to five years.

BOARDS WILL BE SELECTED THIS EVENING

Frances Perkins. The appointment of a steel board is considered almost inevitable since both management and union have submitted plans for such a body. The question which Miss Perkins is trying to settle is just how the board shall proceed once set up.

Undoubtedly Mr. Roosevelt would prefer to have the question settled before leaving for his vacation. The same thought applies to the longshoremen's controversy.

The Federal Reserve board is following the securities commission appointments closely. The board has its own part to play under the new Securities Exchange act and has been meeting to discuss the situation.

Importance of the selection as far as the board is concerned is reflected in the close relationship the board will have with the commission. The former will control brokers' credit and margins, life blood of speculation. The commission will prescribe the rules which exchange to govern trading on the exchanges.

Concerns Loans
The board also is considering the means it will pursue in making loans as much as $250,000,000 available to private industry. These loans will be made to stable industries unable to obtain credit on reasonable terms from the usual banking channels.

Each of the 12 federal reserve banks will loan a part of this large sum and, to supervise the loans, must select a committee of five responsible business men in each reserve bank district to serve in an advisory capacity.

The reserve board loans, made under the loans-to-industry act, will supplement $300,000,000 to be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, for which applications have already begun to pour in.

The board's concern over margins is based on the fact that an early announcement as to the board's policy on this and other credit provisions will be considered highly beneficial to the security markets. The law itself becomes effective July 1 although the margin provisions do not become effective until Oct. 1.

It is believed the first figure will be somewhere near the congressional "yardstick" of a minimum margin of 45 per cent.

These projects will afford 9,259,980 man-hours of work, if approved as listed at a total cost of $194,591.75. The SERRA, if these projects all were approved, would pay $131,654.06 while the political subdivisions would pay $70,537.64 for materials. The SERRA pays only for labor costs.

Interview Prospects
At a meeting of the SERRA committee here yesterday, three persons were interviewed who have applied for the position of director. These were A. L. Hogue, Brea mayor; Noel A. Berry, Santa Ana advertising man and real estate broker; W. J. Tway, former assistant director of the CWA. NEW COUNCIL DITCHES ECONOMY PROGRAM; VOTES MONEY FROM TREASURY; INCREASES EXPENSE

Chamber of Commerce and the local American Legion post. The motion for the Chamber of Commerce endorsement had been made by T. E. Stephenson, the letters stated, while Charles D. Swaner signed the Legion communication.

Favors Request
Attorney O. A. Jacobs arose and spoke on behalf of the request, saying it would be used to buy additional food supplies, other than those furnished by the government during the forthcoming Guard camp at San Luis Obispo.

"The government only allows 36 cents per day per man for feeding them," said Jacobs. Other cities have made donations to their Guardsmen. Anaheim gave $250 for their one company. These home boys are entitled to a good meal once in a while, and this money will enable them to buy such additional supplies as ice cream, to hire a cook; to buy towels, aprons, and caps for the cook and incidental things they desire."

Jacobs stressed the point that local Guardsmen sacrifice their time and are ready for instant service in the community, such as police duty last year during the earthquake, and that the $200 gift from the city was needed to see that they were "properly fed" during their period at camp.

LeGaye Protests
Immediate protest was made by LeGaye, who asked Jacobs if he would make the charge that the men would be "improperly fed by the government," on the allowance of 36 cents per day, and also asked if the men were paid while in camp. Jacobs replied the men receive 95 cents per day while in camp.

LeGaye replied: "Well, they aren't sacrificing their time, then. And I know of many instances where people here in Santa Ana are living on much less than 36 cents per day. I know two people who have been living on 30 cents per day and have been doing so for two years—they had to—and they still are paying their taxes."

"It's all in the way you look at it," replied Penn, and made a motion the request for the donation be granted, which was seconded by Trustee Rowland, and carried, with LeGaye not voting.

Bruns Speaks
"It's little enough we can do to show our appreciation and gratitude to the guardsmen who give up their time without complaint and aided the police department in such an efficient manner during the earthquake," said Bruns in supporting the gift.

It was brought out in the discussion that the previous council had made no such donation last year, holding that it was not a justifiable tax expense at a time when taxpayers were finding it difficult, and impossible, to make their payments.

The alignment was seen also in the hiring of two new firemen, over LeGaye's protest, following E. G. Warner's election to the post of mayor.

Penn, fire commissioner, said the fire department had been short two men since last fall, when vacancies by death had not been filled for the sake of economy, and he thought these vacancies should now be filled to bring the department up to its former strength.

Needed One Man
LeGaye said Fire Chief John Luxembourger had told the council two or three weeks ago that he could "get along" with one man, and had said that if he was choosing the men, he would have chosen different men than those selected by the fire commissioner. Penn replied that the appointments had already been made by the fire chief.

LeGaye retorted that the chief had "distinctly made the statement" that he could, by adjusting vacation periods, get along with one additional man, and that the hazardous season for fires was not in the summer months. He held that the two new men be appointed, in order to save $1200 to $1400 per year.

Limit Is Set
LeGaye said a $100,000 expenditure by the water department for a 1,000,000 gallon storage tank, new mains, fire hydrants, etc., in 1929 had more to do with reducing insurance rates than new men on the fire department, and that the fire department was not charged by the water department with water used for fires, which, he said, should be done for the purpose of the various departments.

"The state law sets a limit of 30 cents per $100 valuation for use of the fire department," declared LeGaye, "but our department exceeds that legal allowance by several thousand dollars per year. Many cities hold their fire costs down to that rate, and some as low as 12 1/2 cents per $100. I think the fire department should keep within the limit established by law and not dip into the other funds of the city."

"It's legal to stay within the 30-cent rate. Why not try to do it?"

"Has it ever been done?" asked Penn. "We can at least try," said LeGaye. "The fact that water used by the fire department is not charged against it gives an erroneous picture of the fire department and not a true picture of the water department."

Exceeds Quota
Penn said that the fire department, with savings that had been made, only exceeded its tax quota by about $3000 last year, which he held was a good showing, inasmuch as the excess fire cost which had been made up from the water department in previous years had run from $8000 to $10,000.

"We should practice economy first, last, and all the time," LeGaye continued. We can save money in the fire department if we run it as a business, and not as a political or fraternal organization."

Penn's motion to hire the two new firemen was seconded by Rowland, and carried, LeGaye not voting.

Later in the meeting Fire Chief Luxembourger arose to explain his statement to the former council two weeks ago; that for 15 years he had figured the fire commissioner as his boss, and not the whole council; that his investigation had showed the two men previously hired by Penn and then laid off, were good men, taxpayers, and unemployed, and he would recommend the appointment of Frank Cory and Sam Fink to the fire department posts.

Upon motion of Penn, seconded by Rowland, this recommendation was followed and the men hired.

JOHNSON REFUSES EAGLE FOR MILLS

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(UP)—

The National Recovery Administration refused to yield in its controversy with the Harriman hosiery mill, Harriman, Tenn., today and made clear that despite shutdown of the plant it did not intend to restore the blue eagle to the firm until NRA requirements are met.

Maj. George L. Berry, NRA division administrator, who is Administrator Hugh S. Johnson's personal representative in dealing with the Harriman strike situation, described today a 15-point proposal of settlement which had been drafted when Berry was in Harriman one month ago. The entire proposal was said to have been unanimously accepted by the workers. Thirteen of the points approved by the Harriman Hosiery Co., Berry said. The employers have not to date accepted the remaining two points.

DOCTOR SAYS DRIVER DRUNK AFTER CRASH

Evidence that Al Brunner, 40-

year-old Long Beach fishing boat captain, had been under the influence of intoxicating liquor when the car he was driving on March 11 near Dana Point crashed into a car in which two women were burned to death and another fatally injured, continued to be offered today as the murder trial continued in Judge James L. Allen's department of superior court.

The outstanding witness on the stand today was Dr. Donald A. bey, resident physician at the county hospital, who said he believed Brunner was intoxicated when he was brought to the hospital. He gave technical testimony regarding the different ways a man would act who suffered concussion of the brain and if he were intoxicated.

Dr. Dexter Ball and Paul Esslinger, the first from Santa Ana and the latter from Capistrano, who examined the defendant following the accident, both testified at the afternoon session yesterday that Brunner was under the influence of liquor. Highway patrolmen had testified that Brunner was drunk immediately after the accident.

L. W. Blodget, defense attorney, is attempting to show that Brunner suffered concussion of the brain and was not intoxicated at the time of the crash. Leo Fris deputy district attorney, is prosecuting.

Moving pictures taken by Officer George Peterkin of the highway patrol of the car and scene of the accident were shown at a special session of superior court last night.

Mrs. Jennie Orenstine, 45, and her daughter, Beverly Orenstine, 22, were burned to death in the accident on March 11 at Dana Point on the Coast Highway. Mildred Beckman Devitt, 26, wife of the driver of the car struck by Brunner, was fatally injured.

Augustin Acosta, governor of Matanzas province, was made secretary of the presidency. Men already in the cabinet took on the other three posts pending appointment of permanent successors.

Actively against the government are students, communists and most men in the navy, who support Ramon Grau San Martin, whom Menditea succeeded as provisional president.

Men of one of the government's two chief gunboats have mutinied. Unknown members of the civilian opposition are bombing and shooting almost daily in the streets.

The army remains loyal to Menditea.

Why Ants Leave Home

A Problem of Vital Interest To

Every Housewife

There will be no excuse for any housewife in this section not knowing the answer to this question before the present Summer is over, because it is going to be spread across the pages of newspapers, displayed on billboards and broadcast over the leading radio stations. The fact is that while the little household ant is one of the greatest nuisances with which women have to contend, its control is a comparatively simple matter.

All that is necessary is to spread a little of that marvelous preparation, Kellogg's Ant Paste, around the places where ants are accustomed to appear, and the manner in which they rush out of the house is startling to say the least. Kellogg's can be obtained at all drugstores. Do not wait until your pantry is over-run with ants, but order a package today.

ain's naval needs was somewhat relieved by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, who intimated the needs would arise only in the event the present naval treaties were not renewed.

The way was left open for the United States to suggest a revised program, based on the possibility that the 1935 naval conference would succeed.

Sends Delegation

The news that Japan intended to send a strong delegation to London seemed to reflect concern over the British demands.

France's plan to demand more ships was a reflection of its anxiety over the possibility of German rearmament and a desire to protect both its Atlantic and Mediterranean coasts.

It was hinted that France would demand as much naval tonnage as Italy and Germany had combined. Under the Washington naval treaties France and Italy had equal tonnage in big ships. They could not agree at the 1930 conference in London, at which auxiliary ships were limited.

Italy has shown no sign that it will accept a lower ratio than France, as France demands, and France is in no mood to make further disarmament concessions on land or sea.

Germany is yet to be heard from, but has announced that it insists on being included in any naval conference with the understanding that the sharp limitations imposed by the Versailles treaty shall be altered.

Sure glad to see where William Allen White had received the high award for Americanism. He is a mighty clear-thinking man. That Kansas has more real newspapermen than all the rest of the States combined.

NEW RECORD MADE IN GLIDER FLIGHT

ELMIRA, N. Y., June 26.—(UP)—Disatisfied with his feat of breaking the world's record for sustained glider flight by almost 20 miles, Richard C. du Pont planned to take off in his motorless plane again today in an effort to establish a record that would stand for a long time.

Du Pont soared 155 miles over Allegheny mountain rises from Elmira to Somerset Hills, N. J., airport, yesterday, bettering the record of 136 miles set in Germany in 1931 by Guenther Groenhoff.

He returned his Albatross II here today.

Convicted Here, Seeks Probation From San Quentin

Robert O. Gruwell, 40, who was convicted here March 9 on charges of violating the Corporate Securities act, applied to Governor Frank F. Merriam today for a pardon, claiming probation had been recommended by the probation officer, according to dispatches from Sacramento.

Gruwell, as manager of the Golconda Mining company, was selling bonds to John E. Phillips without a permit from the corporation commission. The transaction took place in February, 1931, and involved $800. Gruwell was sentenced to San Quentin to serve one to five years.

BOARDS WILL BE SELECTED THIS EVENING ON THURSDAY

Frances Perkins. The appointment of a steel board is considered almost inevitable since both management and union have submitted plans for such a body. The question which Miss Perkins is trying to settle is just how the board shall proceed once set up.

Undoubtedly Mr. Roosevelt would prefer to have the question settled before leaving for his vacation. The same thought applies to the longshoremen's controversy.

The Federal Reserve board is following the securities commission appointments closely. The board has its own part to play under the new Securities Exchange act and has been meeting to discuss the situation.

Importance of the selection as far as the board is concerned is the fact that the close relationship the board will have with the commission. The former will control brokers' credit and margins, life blood of speculation. The commission will prescribe the rules which are to govern trading on the exchanges.

Concerns Loans. The board also is considering the manner in which it will pursue in making possible as much as $280,000,000 available to private industry. These loans will be made to stable industries unable to obtain credit on reasonable terms from the usual banking channels.

Each of the 12 federal reserve banks will loan a part of this large sum and, to supervise the loans, must select a committee of five responsible business men in each reserve bank district to serve in an advisory capacity.

The reserve board loans, made under the loans-to-industry act, will supplement $200,000,000 to be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, for which applications have already begun to pour in.

The board's concern over margins is based on the fact that an early announcement as to the board's policy on this and other credit provisions will be considered highly beneficial to the security markets. The law itself becomes effective July 1 although the margin provisions do not become effective until Oct. 1.

It is believed the first figure will be somewhere near the congressional "yardstick" of a minimum margin of 45 per cent.

Chamber of Commerce and the local American Legion post. The motion for the Chamber of Commerce endorsement had been made by T. E. Stephenson, the letters stated, while Charles D. Swanner signed the Legion communication.

Favors Request Attorney O. A. Jacobs arose and spoke on behalf of the request, saying it would be used to buy additional food supplies, other than those furnished by the government during the forthcoming Guard camp at San Luis Obispo.

"The government only allows 36 cents per day per man for feeding them," said Jacobs. Other cities have made donations to their Guardsmen. Anaheim gave $250 for their one company. These home boys are entitled to a good meal once in a while, and this money will enable them to buy such additional supplies as ice cream, to hire a cook; to buy towels, aprons, and caps for the cook, and incidental things they desire."

Jacobs stressed the point that local Guardsmen sacrifice their time and are ready for instant service in the community, such as police duty last year during the earthquake, and that the $200 gift from the city was needed to see that they were "properly fed" during their period at camp.

LeGaye Protests Immediate protest was made by LeGaye, who asked Jacobs if he would make the charge that the men would be "improperly fed by the government" on the allowance of 36 cents per day, and also asked if the men were paid while in camp. Jacobs replied the men receive 65 cents per day while in camp.

LeGaye replied: "Well, they aren't sacrificing their time, then. And I know of many instances where people here in Santa Ana are living on much less than 36 cents per day. I know two people who have been living on 30 cents per day and have been doing so for two years—they had to—and they still are paying their taxes."

"It's all in the way you look at it," replied Penn, and made a motion the request for the donation be granted, which was seconded by Trustee Rowland, and carried, with LeGaye not voting.

Bruns Speaks "It's little enough we can do to show our appreciation and gratitude to the guardsmen who give up their time without complaint and attend the police department in such an efficient manner during the earthquake," said Bruns in supporting the gift.

It was brought out in the discussion that the previous council had made no such donation last year, holding that it was not a justifiable tax expense at a time when taxpayers were finding it difficult, and impossible, to make their payments.

The new alignment was seen also in the hiring of two new firemen, over LeGaye's protest, projects all were approved, would pay $121,654.06 while the political subdivisions would pay $70,537.64 for materials. The SERRA pays only for labor costs.

Jacobs stressed the point that local Guardsmen sacrifice their time and are ready for instant service in the community, such as police duty last year during the earthquake, and that the $200 gift from the city was needed to see that they were "properly fed" during their period at camp.

LeGaye Protests Immediate protest was made by LeGaye, who asked Jacobs if he would make the charge that the men would be "improperly fed by the government" on the allowance of 36 cents per day, and also asked if the men were paid while in camp. Jacobs replied the men receive 65 cents per day while in camp.

LeGaye replied: "Well, they aren't sacrificing their time, then. And I know of many instances where people here in Santa Ana are living on much less than 36 cents per day. I know two people who have been living on 30 cents per day and have been doing so for two years—they had to—and they still are paying their taxes."

"It's all in the way you look at it," replied Penn, and made a motion the request for the donation be granted, which was seconded by Trustee Rowland, and carried, with LeGaye not voting.

Bruns Speaks "It's little enough we can do to show our appreciation and gratitude to the guardsmen who give up their time without complaint and attend the police department in such an efficient manner during the earthquake," said Bruns in supporting the gift.

It was brought out in the discussion that the previous council had made no such donation last year, holding that it was not a justifiable tax expense at a time when taxpayers were finding it difficult, and impossible, to make their payments.

The new alignment was seen also in the hiring of two new firemen, over LeGaye's protest, projects all were approved, would pay $121,654.06 while the political subdivisions would pay $70,537.64 for materials. The SERRA pays only for labor costs.

Interview Prospects

At a meeting of the SERRA committee here yesterday, three persons were interviewed who had applied for the position of director. These were A. L. Hogue, Brea mayor; Noel A. Berry, Santa Ana advertising man and real estate broker; W. J. Tway, former assistant director of the CWA. It is understood that Eugene Kahen, former Santa Ana business man, will be interviewed Thursday night, when the final selection is expected to be made.

Light Showers In Orange County

Several communities of Orange county received light showers as a minor part of the heavy rain-storm which hit the northeast corner of San Diego county late Saturday and early Sunday.

A steady mist fell in Santa Ana, but the drizzle was too light to measure. Newport Beach and

LEGAYE MAKES POINTS OUT STRONG APPEAL CITY FINANCES FOR ECONOMY HOWARD'S RACE

Warning against "pork barrel" tactics in the handling of city finances, because of tremendous burdens the city is facing, Trustee A. F. LeGaye last night urged fellow members of the council to practice the most rigid economy possible in preparing the budget for the coming year.

LeGaye urged that a survey be made and a tentative outline of the budget be drawn up soon so that it may be given thorough study before adoption.

"Directly and indirectly, Santa Ana faces debts of six million dollars," LeGaye declared, "and this is a tremendous burden, when you consider that our total assessed value is possibly 15 millions."

"We have these known obligations, besides other possible ones, such as the more than $200,000 delinquent special assessments and $2100 on the museum stock, and would be foolish to forget them when the appeals for money come to us."

In the discussion that followed, regarding delinquent assessments, City Auditor Lloyd Banks said that in many cases the special assessments are greater than the tax totals. Engineer J. L. McBride said that the county tax collector refuses to accept payments of city taxes and special assessments, without the county taxes on the same property, but he believed the collector could be forced by a court order to separate these items.

It was brought out that if these items were separated, taxpayers could protect their property from bond holders by paying city taxes and assessment bonds, and let the county tax go delinquent if necessary, with five years for redemption; also that the new law permits payment of taxes at 10 percent down and ten equal installments.

BOARD CORRECTS RESOLUTION ERROR

A resolution asking for a loan of $118,011 for the county of Orange from the $20,000,000 state unemployment relief bond issue was adopted by the board of supervisors this morning.

The resolution was a corrected copy, the former one having had the wrong date in it. The document said that the money is to be expended for unemployment relief in Orange county from July 1, 1934 to June 30, 1935, or shortly after.

This is the final amount the county can borrow from the bond issue, the balance already having been borrowed. The $118,000 makes a total of $612,000 the county has borrowed from this source for unemployment relief.

The supervisors this morning allocated to the city of Orange the sum of $2361 as the city's balance on its appropriation for the fiscal year which ends July 1 from the motor vehicle fuel tax fund.

Preview Tonight At Walker State

In addition to the Will Rogers picture "David Harum," which is the current feature at Walker's State theater, a special preview has been scheduled on the program tonight, it was announced today by Manager Vic Walker. The Rogers picture will have its last showing tonight.

The preview is a film made by one of the better independent film concerns and is reported to be a powerful melodrama. It will be screened at 9 o'clock.

Other subjects on the program are a comedy, "She Done Him Right," and a scenic nature film of an undersea volcanic eruption, title "Kra-katoa."

Court Notes

Joe Silvers, Frank Ramos and Chris Federico, San Juan Capistrano, were committed to the county jail for 7 1-2 days yesterday by Judge John Landell of San Juan Capistrano on a charge of drunkenness on the highway.

Three men appeared in police court yesterday on drunkenness charges. C. K. Moon was given until July 2 to pay a $15 fine; Fred Flores was given 10 days to pay a $20 fine and Frank Townsley had his charge changed to vagrancy and committed to the jail for 180 days. Townsley had been given a 60-day suspended sentence last week for drunkenness.

Arthur Reed, Orange, paid $5, Alfred L. Ryan, paid $5 of a $15 fine and Mrs. C. W. Beach, of Costa Mesa, paid $5 when they appeared in police court yesterday.

Anaheim reported .03 of an inch of rain, while Laguna, Huntington Beach and Garden Grove recorded .02. San Juan Capistrano received .01.

Cafe Owner Seeks Dismissal Of His Liquor Sale Case

Seeking information why the Hof Brau cafe and Charlie's Barn cafe were not included in the dismissal of liquor cases in the police court last week, Attorney Alex Nelson appeared before the city council last night, accompanied by A. M. Caspari, owner of the Hof Brau.

Nelson said he understood that the council had instructed the city attorney to dismiss the charges and said he saw no reason why the two cafes should not be included.

Nelson was informed by the councilmen that they had no part in the dismissals and had not given any instructions.

The Hof Brau trial is set for July 12, with Caspari being charged with conducting a public barroom and saloon, Charles Clark and Vern Speck, owners of the Barn, were on trial several weeks ago but the jury disagreed and was dismissed.

RULE FILING BY ASPIRANT FOR POST INVALID EXTEND DEADLINE IN QUEEN CONTEST

The name of Charles Ocan, who sought to file nomination petitions for coroner Saturday night, will not appear on the August 28 ballot, according to a ruling received here today from Attorney General U. S. Webb at Sacramento.

In a telegram this morning to W. F. Menton, assistant district attorney who had requested the ruling, Webb said that "nomination papers left at home of deputy county clerk at 10 p. m. June 23, the office of county clerk having been closed at 12 o'clock noon of that day, were not filed at the proper time or place. Not necessary to decide other question."

The "other question" referred to was the point whether or not the word "coroner" on the petition also covered the additional title and duties of the office of "public administrator."

Ocan decided Saturday morning to seek the office of coroner now held by Earl Abbey, and for which Dr. J. G. Bernicke of Garden Grove is also contesting. He took out nominating papers shortly before noon, secured the required signatures Saturday afternoon, and deposited the paper and filing fee with Deputy County Clerk A. L. Hitchcock at his home in Orange Saturday evening at 10 o'clock after he had been unable to locate County Clerk J. M. Backs or other local deputies.

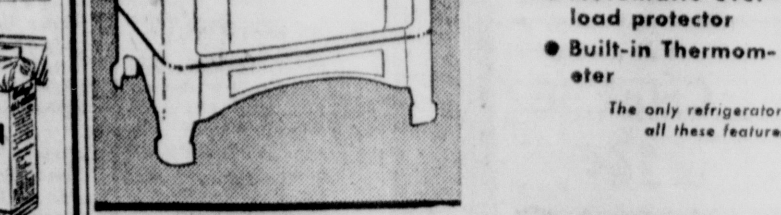

This increased mileage by the chief's car while he is running for sheriff was so great that I began to wonder, if this city car was being used entirely for city business," LeGaye continued. He then made a motion that Howard be granted a 60-day leave of absence without pay "so that there may be no possible criticism leveled against the council for helping to finance his campaign."

The rest of the council sat silent, and there was no second to the motion. Trustee Penn finally remarked that "we should look into it." On a direct question from LeGaye, Trustee Bruns said the matter should be investigated and explained by the chief. LeGaye said the matter concerns the taxpayers of the city and their interests must be considered.

A motion by Penn that the matter be referred to Trustee Rowland, newly appointed police commissioner, that he might confer with Chief Howard "in private" and make his recommendation to the council, which would be followed, was carried.

In bringing this matter before the council, LeGaye said that Bruns, before his appointment to the council, had disclosed considerable information about things which should be investigated, including an apartment hotel where gambling "and worse" was going on, and these and many other matters of city-wide concern would be brought up later, including figures on increased mileage this year for other police cars.

After refusal of other council members to second his motion that Howard be granted a leave of absence, LeGaye requested that his motion be spread upon the

Best as a CEREAL
Best for COOKING
The only refrigerator with all these features

It's so convenient to keep a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the kitchen. Serve it as a cereal. Use it also as a healthful ingredient in your cooking. For muffins, breads, omelets, waffles, etc.

ALL-BRAN brings your family the "bulk" that is so helpful in correcting common constipation.

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. In severe cases, with each meal. How much better than risking patent medicines!

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. This "bulk" is similar to that in leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN is also rich in iron for the blood.

Special processes of cooking and flavoring make Kellogg's ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable than ordinary raw bran.

And because it is all bran—with only flavoring added—it brings you more "bulk" than part-bran products.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Change Zone To Light Industrial

Land in a small section near Fruit and Santiago streets was changed from an apartment house to light industrial zone by the city council last night.

The matter was given first reading last night and final passage last night. The change was asked to permit a gasoline distributing firm to operate in this vicinity.

Fourth Street and Sycamore

Will Sell House Purchased By City

With several offers made to purchase a house at Sixth and Olive streets, which was recently purchased by the city, the city council decided last night to advertise for bids on the house.

If the house is sold and moved, it will give additional room on the west side of the Municipal Bowl.

Light Showers

In Orange County
 Several communities of Orange county received light showers as a minor part of the heavy rain-storm which hit the northeast corner of San Diego county late Saturday and early Sunday.

LEGAYE MAKES STRONG APPEAL FOR ECONOMY

Warning against "pork barrel" tactics in the handling of city finances, because of tremendous burdens the city is facing, Trustee A. F. LeGaye last night urged fellow members of the council to practice the most rigid economy possible in preparing the budget for the coming year.

LeGaye urged that a survey be made and a tentative outline of the budget be drawn up soon so that it may be given thorough study before adoption.

"Directly and indirectly, Santa Ana faces debts of six million dollars," LeGaye declared, "and this is a tremendous burden, when you consider that our total assessed value is possibly 15 millions."

"We have these known obligations, besides other possible ones, such as the more than $200,000 delinquent special assessments and $200 on the museum stock, and would be foolish to forget them when these appeals for money come to us."

In the discussion that followed, regarding delinquent assessments, City Auditor Lloyd Banks said that in many cases the special assessments are greater than the tax totals.

Engineer J. L. McBride said that the county tax collector refuses to accept payments of city taxes and special assessments, without the county taxes on the same property, but he believed the collector could be forced by a court order to separate these items.

It was brought out that if these items were separated, taxpayers could protect their property from bond holders by paying city taxes and assessment bonds, and let the county tax go delinquent if necessary, with five years for redemption.

Also that the new law permits payment of taxes at 10 per cent down and ten equal installments.

The tax collector's ruling against separating the city, county, and assessment taxes, was classed as "arbitrary" by LeGaye, who said he was consulting bond attorneys upon the question. He brought up another matter, he said, because he believed there would be less delinquency on city taxes and assessment bonds if property owners could divide their payments, paying these items and permitting the county tax to go delinquent, with a full five years allowed for redemption.

BOARD CORRECTS RESOLUTION ERROR

A resolution asking for a loan of $118,011 for the county of Orange from the $20,000,000 state unemployment relief bond issue was adopted by the board of supervisors this morning.

The resolution was a corrected copy, the former one having had the wrong date in it. The document said that the money is to be expended for unemployment relief in Orange county from July 1, 1934 to June 30, 1935, or shortly after.

This is the final amount the county can borrow from the bond issue, the balance already having been borrowed. The $118,000 makes a total of $612,000 the county has borrowed from this source for unemployment relief.

The supervisors this morning allocated to the city of Orange the sum of $2361 as the city's balance on its appropriation for the fiscal year which ends July 1 from the motor vehicle fuel tax fund.

POINTS OUT CITY FINANCES HOWARD'S RAGE

Showing that the mileage on the city car operated by Chief of Police Floyd Howard is three times as great for the past three months during which time the chief has been campaigning for the sheriff's job, as during the corresponding period last year, Councilman A. F. LeGaye last night moved during the council meeting that the chief be given a 60 day leave of absence without pay, until after the August 23 primary election, so as to save Santa Ana taxpayers from helping to finance Howard's political campaign.

LeGaye quoted figures showing that the police chief's car, recorded 3316 miles during March, April and May of last year, while for the same months this year, while Howard was campaigning for the office of county sheriff, the car had recorded 9049 miles, practically three times as much as last year, with a consequent increased bill for gasoline, tires, and maintenance paid by local taxpayers.

The car traveled approximately 100 miles per day for the past three months, according to the figures given.

LeGaye's motion was unsuccessful, due to the fact that no other councilman seconded the motion. Chief Howard was not present at the meeting.

"The matter was first suggested by Mr. Bruns before he was appointed to the council," said LeGaye, "that's why he was appointed, because he gave us considerable valuable information and pledged himself to help us in cleaning things up about the city."

"We went in his car to the city garage and checked up on the figures, and I was astounded that the chief's car mileage, paid for by Santa Ana taxpayers, should jump so enormously in an election year while he is a candidate for office. I couldn't believe it, and went again today and rechecked the figures."

"Last year, which was not an election year, March, April and May showed a mileage for the chief's car of 3316 miles. He said that the new law permits payment of taxes at 10 per cent down and ten equal installments."

"This increased mileage by the chief's car while he is running for sheriff was so great that I began to wonder, if this city car was being used entirely for city business, LeGaye continued. He then made a motion that Howard be granted a 60-day leave of absence without pay "so that there may be no possible criticism leveled against the council for helping to finance his campaign."

The rest of the council sat silent, and there was no second to the motion. Trustee Penn finally remarked that "we should look into it." On a direct question from LeGaye, Trustee Bruns said the matter should be investigated and explained by the chief. LeGaye said the matter concerns the taxpayers of the city and their interests must be considered.

A motion by Penn that the matter be referred to Trustee Rowland, newly appointed police commissioner, that he might confer with Chief Howard "in private" and make his recommendation to the council, which would be followed, was carried.

In bringing this matter before the council, LeGaye said that Bruns, before his appointment to the council, had disclosed considerable information about things which should be investigated, including an apartment hotel where gambling "and worse" was going on, and these and many other matters of city-wide concern would be brought up later, including figures on increased mileage this year for other police cars.

After refusal of other council members to second his motion that Howard be granted a leave of absence, LeGaye requested that his motion be spread upon the minutes of the meeting together with the fact that no second had come forward.

Best for COOKING

It's so convenient to keep a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the kitchen. Serve it as a cereal. Use it also as a healthful ingredient in your cooking. For muffins, breads, omelets, waffles, etc.

ALL-BRAN brings your family the "bulk" that is so helpful in correcting common constipation.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. In severe cases, with each meal. How much better than risking patent medicines!

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. This "bulk" is similar to that in leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN is also rich in iron for the blood.

Special processes of cooking and flavoring make Kellogg's ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable than ordinary raw bran.

And because it is all bran—with only flavoring added—it brings you more "bulk" than part-bran products.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Cafe Owner Seeks Dismissal Of His Liquor Sale Case

Seeking information why the Hof Brau cafe and Charlie's Barn cafe were not included in the dismissal of liquor cases in the police court last week, Attorney Alex Nelson appeared before the city council last night, accompanied by A. M. Caspari, owner of the Hof Brau.

Nelson said he understood that the council had instructed the city attorney to dismiss the charges and said he saw no reason why the two cafes should not be included.

Nelson was informed by the councilmen that they had no part in the dismissal and had not given any instructions.

The Hof Brau trial is set for July 12, with Caspari being charged with conducting a public barroom and saloon, Charles Clark and Vern Speich, owners of the Barn, were on trial several weeks ago but the jury disagreed and was dismissed.

RULE FILING BY ASPIRANT FOR POST INVALID

The name of Charles Ocain, who sought to file nomination petitions for coroner Saturday night, will not appear on the August 23 ballot, according to a ruling received here today from Attorney General U. S. Webb at Sacramento.

In a telegram this morning to W. F. Menton, assistant district attorney who had requested the ruling, Webb said that "nomination papers left at home of deputy county clerk at 10 p. m. June 23, the office of county clerk having been closed at 12 o'clock noon of that day, were not filed at the proper time or place. Not necessary to decide other question."

The "other question" referred to was the point whether or not the word "coroner" on the petition also covered the additional title and duties of the office of "public administrator."

Ocain decided Saturday morning to seek the office of coroner now held by Earl Abbey, and for which Dr. J. G. Bernicke of Garden Grove is also contesting. He took out nominating papers shortly before noon, secured the required signatures Saturday afternoon, and deposited the paper and filing fee with Deputy County Clerk A. L. Hitchcock at his home in Long Beach Saturday evening at 10 o'clock after he had been unable to locate County Clerk J. M. Backs or other local deputies.

Minutes of the meeting together with the fact that no second had come forward.

COLLINS FILES FOR CONGRESS IN 2 PARTIES

Sam Collins of Fullerton is a candidate for both the Republican and Democratic nominations for re-election to congress, according to a news item appearing in the Riverside Daily Press.

Collins filed as a Republican in Orange county and as a Democrat in San Bernardino county, the paper said.

"I received a request by mail about a month ago, when I was in Washington, to file for the Democratic nomination in San Bernardino," the Riverside paper quotes Collins as saying. "The request, I believe, originated with a Democratic club in Barstow, but of that I cannot be sure because I have not the data with me."

"I signed an acceptance of candidacy and sent it back, but I was not sure as to whether or not a nominating petition on the Democratic ticket had been filed."

Will Sell House Purchased By City

With several offers made to purchase a house at Sixth and Olive streets, which was recently purchased by the city, the city council decided last night to advertise for bids on the house.

CITY SUED FOR LIABILITY ON GIFT STOCKS

Already cognizant of the liability of the city in paying for delinquencies under the 1915 bond act, the city council was informed yesterday that the city was being sued by the defunct Pickwick stage company for $2145 because the city accepted shares of the stock from the Bowers estate several years ago.

Both matters came up for discussion at the council meeting yesterday but no action was taken because of the enforced absence of City Attorney Clyde Downing, who has been conferring in the northern part of the state with bond authorities. Assistant City Attorney Ernest Dial conferred with the council and briefly sketched the Pickwick suit.

Santa Ana is one of nearly 150 defendants in the suits, which have been filed in Los Angeles. The defunct company charges that the city is liable for its pro rata share of stock in relation to the total issue, because it accepted the Bowers gift to help build a museum at Twentieth and Main streets.

When the stock was given the city with other securities from the Bowers estate, the First National bank was named as trustee and the city as beneficiary. Trustee A. F. LeGaye suggested that a committee be appointed to look over other securities held by the city to determine, if possible, whether other suits might be pending. He said he warned the council about the Pickwick stock a year ago, but no action was taken to dispose of the questionable shares.

LeGaye said he had been conferring with Santa Ana bank heads and would schedule a meeting between them and the council soon to discuss the best method of meeting the liability on the 1915 bonds.

In commenting on the debts, LeGaye inquired whether it would be possible to segregate the city and county taxes so that a citizen could pay his city and bond assessment taxes and let the county portion go default if he desired. He contended that default would not be as great under this plan, if it could be effected.

LEGAYE REPRESENTS
S. A. AT WATER MEET

Councilman A. F. LeGaye was named last night to represent the city at a meeting of water interests Friday night to discuss methods of securing federal aid for water problems of Orange county.

The meeting is sponsored by the Associated Chambers of Commerce which meet tonight. Secretary George A. Raymer asked for one delegate from the city and LeGaye was appointed by Mayor E. G. Warner.

Weed Cleaning In City Goes Slowly

Weed cleaning in the city by means of working out delinquent fines from the police court is still progressing slowly, it was reported by City Engineer J. L. McBride to the city council last night.

There have been 219 lots contracted to work and 124 completed. Of the 39 men employed, 11 are still working. The lots contracted for equal $578.50 in delinquent fines, of which $847.50 have been completed.

COUNCIL NOTES

A letter of appreciation was sent to the council last night by Harry F. Smith, general chairman of the Valencia Orange festival in Fullerton, with a request for the same cooperation next year.

The American Legion drum and bugle corps was granted permission to sell fireworks in several stands, following an annual custom.

Virtually the entire council and many appointive officials will attend the meeting Thursday of the Orange County League of Municipalities, it was indicated at the meeting last night following reading of a letter from Secretary Albert Launer.

CITY APPROVES
10 PROJECTS
FOR SERRA WORK

Approval of 10 tentative SERRA projects, to be completed at a cost of $14,520.82 to the city for materials and $38,848.21 to the SERRA for labor, was given by the city council last night.

The projects were submitted by City Engineer J. L. McBride following conferences between the city planning commission and a special chamber of commerce committee. George Raymer, chamber secretary and spokesman yesterday for a delegation from the two groups, pointed out the need for projects from Santa Ana.

At the evening meeting, on motion of Councilman Fred Rowland, the projects were approved and ordered submitted to the SERRA board for consideration.

The projects were as follows: Curb returns and sidewalks. This is a continuation of CWA work and would utilize a credit of $2200 in materials from the CWA. The total cost would be $8400.40, of which the city would expend $3388.50 for materials.

Restrooms and bandstand in Birch park. The city would spend $4000 for materials and the SERRA $4000 for labor.

City parks. Includes completion of Fisher park on North Flower street, work at Bowers museum, and other parks. SERRA to spend $4716, city to spend $1112.50, total expense, $5828.50. Drainage. Includes large culvert on Orange avenue at the Edison school and at Seventeenth and English streets. SERRA to spend $7819.50, city to spend $2470.40, total expense, $10,289.90. Sewer. Installation of new sewer from Eighth and English streets north to Seventeenth street and then east. SERRA to spend $2862, city to spend $1857.53, total expense $4719.53.

Fire alarm system. The expansion plan was approved by CWA but never undertaken. Includes new alarm boxes at Hoover and Fremont schools, and new alarm lines in north and west. SERRA to spend $945.81, city to spend $380, total expense, $1325.80. Horseshoe club. Completion of two roque courts started under CWA, new storage building in city yard for electrical equipment and ornamental lights. SERRA to spend $2760, city to spend $512.28, total expense $3272.28.

City planning. Services of 11 "white collar" workers to check and codify city ordinances, index city maps, assist engineer and auditor. Total expense by SERRA, $4380.

Library. Waterproofing city library by painting. SERRA to spend $416, city to spend $270.31 for paint, total expense $686.31.

Retaining wall on ramp at Bowl. SERRA to spend $936, city to spend $530.50, state gas tax funds to furnish $160 for trucking, total expense $1626.50.

Following the outlining of the projects of McBride, there was considerable discussion from where to secure the $14,520 for the city's share of the cost, and the merits of repairing city water lines with SERRA labor. Councilman A. F. LeGaye said that there was a $25,000 reserve in the budget from the water fund, and that it would be good policy to renew water lines. He said during the past three months, there has been an average of 23 per cent of waste of water, indicating leaking water mains or meter trouble.

NEW MAYOR

E. G. Warner, rancher, 1516 Willits street, last night was chosen mayor by the Santa Ana city council. Warner is the only member of the present council who was elected at the city election in 1931.

McBride maintained that the city had an excellent water record and had less wastage than most cities. He produced annual statements showing that in 1929, there was 24 per cent wastage; in 1930, 18 per cent; 1931, 19 per cent; 1932, 21 per cent, and 1933, 16 per cent.

He declared the entire system would have to be rebuilt to reduce the 14 per cent remaining unaccounted for, and he could not recommend such an expense for the results obtained.

LeGaye also urged that the utmost consideration be given drainage problems south of the city so that rights-of-way could be secured now to save the city needless expense in later years.

EMPLOY METZGAR TO GET RIGHT-OF-WAY

J. C. Metzgar was employed by the city last night to start work under City Engineer J. L. McBride in securing rights-of-way along South Main street to provide for the contemplated widening work.

McBride explained that the cost of hiring a worker will be charged to the state gasoline tax funds and will total $100 to $150. He said that Metzgar was a good man to handle the work because he owned property on the street.

Metzgar was named by McBride after the city council authorized him to employ someone.

Grant Use of City
Park for Old Age
Pension Meeting

Use of Birch Park on July 1 for a public meeting to explain the old age revolving pension plan was granted by the city council last night, on application of J. O. Nichols.

Nichols requested permission to take a free will offering to provide amplifiers and pay expenses of Dr. Townsend of Long Beach, originator of the pension plan, who will be a speaker.

WARNER NAMED
NEW MAYOR BY CITY COUNCIL

Reorganization of the city council was completed last night, with Councilman E. G. Warner being elected mayor to fill the position left vacant by the resignation of Paul Witmer two weeks ago.

After assuming the chairmanship of the trustees, Warner appointed, Fred Rowland as police commissioner to fill the post left vacant by himself, and Plummer Burns as street and park superintendent, a job formerly held by A. C. Hasenjaeger, who resigned recently.

Warner was nominated by William Penn and was elected without opposition. In a short talk, he thanked the councilmen for naming him mayor and accepted the responsibility and extra work that the position entails.

Warner is the only member of the present council who was elected by the voters in 1931. Each of the other four has been appointed by the council to fill a vacancy. Warner is an orange rancher and lives on Willits street.

GROUP ASKS PERMIT TO MEET IN MUSEUM

Sigma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, national literary society, last night asked the city council for permission to use the Bowers Memorial museum on the second and fourth Friday nights of each month.

Mrs. F. E. Coulter, named in the letter as a sponsor of the group, was present at the council meeting on another matter and said she saw no reason why the request should be granted, since the organization was of a social nature and members had been meeting in their homes.

The matter was referred to the museum board.

SAFEST TIRE
FIRESTONE EVER BUILT

THE New Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 was built to give you the same dependable service it provided for the 33 drivers who started in the tortuous 500-mile grind at Indianapolis May 30.

This new tire has a wider tread of flatter contour, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Besides being Safety Protected on the outside it is Safety Protected on the inside. Eight additional pounds of pure rubber are absorbed by every one hundred pounds of cords.

This additional rubber is so placed that it surrounds every cotton fiber inside every cord in every ply. This is accomplished by soaking the cords in liquid rubber by a Firestone patented process. This patented process, Gum-Dipping, is not used in any other tire built.

Heat caused by internal friction of cotton fibers destroys tires—causes separation and blowouts.

Gum-Dipping counteracts friction and heat—provides greater adhesion and binds the cotton and rubber together into one cohesive unit of greater strength, assuring car owners of the greatest Safety, Protection and Economy that it is possible for human ingenuity to build into a tire.

The most amazing proof of this extra strength, safety and dependability is the fact that everyone of the 33 drivers at Indianapolis chose and bought Firestone High Speed Tires. Race drivers KNOW tire construction—they will not risk their lives or chance of victory on any other than Firestone.

At terrific speeds the cars plunge into the treacherous turns—tires are braced against the scorching brick track—so hot the tires fairly smoke at times—they give—yield and stretch—every conceivable force works to tear the tire to pieces, yet Firestone High Speed Tires "come back" on the straightaways. Not once during the entire race did a tire fail.

Surely this is the most amazing proof ever known of Extra Strength, SAFETY and dependability. Call on the Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store nearest you TODAY. Equip your car with New Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934.

CITY SUED FOR LIABILITY ON GIFT STOCKS

Already cognizant of the liability of the city in paying for delinquencies under the 1915 bond act, the city council was informed yesterday that the city was being sued by the defunct Pickwick stage company for $2145 because the city accepted shares of the stock from the Bowers estate several years ago.

Both matters came up for discussion at the council meeting yesterday but no action was taken because of the enforced absence of City Attorney Clyde Downing, who has been conferring with bond authorities. Assistant City Attorney Ernest Dial conferred with the council and briefly sketched the Pickwick suit.

Santa Ana is one of nearly 150 defendants in the suits, which have been filed in Los Angeles. The defunct company charges that the city is liable for its pro rata share of stock in relation to the total issue, because it accepted the Bowers gift to help build a museum at Twentieth and Main streets.

When the stock was given the city with other securities from the Bowers estate, the First National bank was named as trustee and the city as beneficiary. Trustee A. F. LeGaye suggested that a committee be appointed to look over other securities held by the city to determine, if possible, whether other suits might be pending. He said he warned the council about the Pickwick stock a year ago, but no action was taken to dispose of the questionable shares.

LeGaye said he had been conferring with Santa Ana bank heads and would schedule a meeting between them and the council soon to discuss the best method of meeting the liability on the 1915 bonds.

In commenting on the debts, LeGaye inquired whether it would be possible to segregate the city and county taxes so that a citizen could pay his city and bond assessment taxes and let the county portion go default if he desired. He contended that defaults would not be as great under this plan, if it could be effected.

LEGAYE REPRESENTS S. A. AT WATER MEET

Councilman A. F. LeGaye was named last night to represent the city council at a meeting of water interests Friday night to discuss methods of securing federal aid for water problems of Orange county.

The meeting is sponsored by the Associated Chambers of Commerce which met tonight. Secretary George A. Raymer asked for one delegate from the city and LeGaye was appointed by Mayor E. G. Warner.

Weed Cleaning In City Goes Slowly

Weed cleaning in the city by means of working out delinquent fines from the police court is still progressing slowly, it was reported by City Engineer J. L. McBride to the city council last night.

There have been 219 lots contracted to work and 124 completed. Of the 89 men employed, 11 are still working. The lots contracted for equal $573.50 in delinquent fines, of which $347.50 have been completed.

COUNCIL NOTES

A letter of appreciation was sent to the council last night by Harry P. Smith, general chairman of the Valencia Orange festival in Fullerton, with a request for the same cooperation next year.

The American Legion drum and bugle corps was granted permission to sell fireworks in several stands, following an annual custom.

Virtually the entire council and many appointive officials will attend the meeting Thursday of the Orange County League of Municipalities, it was indicated at the meeting last night following reading of a letter from Secretary Albert Launer.

CITY APPROVES 10 PROJECTS FOR SERRA WORK

Approval of 10 tentative SERRA projects, to be completed at a cost of $14,520.82 to the city for materials and $38,848.21 to the SERRA for labor, was given by the city council last night.

The projects were submitted by City Engineer J. L. McBride following conferences between the city planning commission and a special chamber of commerce committee. George Raymer, chamber secretary and spokesman yesterday for a delegation from the two groups, pointed out the need for projects from Santa Ana.

At the evening meeting, on motion of Councilman Fred Rowland, the projects were approved and ordered submitted to the SERRA board for consideration.

The projects were as follows: Curb returns and sidewalks. This is a continuation of CWA work and would utilize a credit of $2200 in materials from the CWA. The total cost would be $3400.40, of which the city would expend $3388.50 for materials.

Restrooms and bandstand in Birch park. The city would spend $4000 for materials and the SERRA $4000 for labor.

City parks. Includes completion of Fisher park on North Flower street, work at Bowers museum, and other parks. SERRA to spend $4716, city to spend $1112.50, total expense, $5828.50.

Drainage. Includes large culvert on Orange avenue at the Edison school and at Seventeenth and English streets. SERRA to spend $7819.50, city to spend $2470.40, total expense, $10,289.90.

Sewer. Installation of new sewer from Eighth and English streets north to Seventeenth street and then east. SERRA to spend $2862, city to spend $1877.33, total expense $4739.33.

Fire alarm system. The expansion plan was approved by CWA but never undertaken. Includes alarm boxes at Hoover and Fremont schools, and new alarm lines in north and west. SERRA to spend $845.81, city to spend $280, total expense, $1325.80.

Horseshoe club. Completion of two roque courts started under CWA, new storage building in city yard for electrical equipment and ornamental lights. SERRA to spend $2760, city to spend $512.28, total expense $3272.28.

City planning. Services of 11 "white collar" workers to check and codify city ordinances, index city maps, assist engineer and auditor. Total expense by SERRA, $4380.

Library. Waterproofing city library by painting. SERRA to spend $416, city to spend $270.31 for paint, total expense $686.31.

Retaining wall on ramp at Bowl. SERRA to spend $936, city to spend $880.50, state gas tax funds to furnish $160 for trucking, total expense $1876.50.

Following the outlining of the projects of McBride, there was considerable discussion from where to secure the $14,520 for the city's share of the cost, and the merits of repairing city water lines with SERRA labor. Councilman A. F. LeGaye said that there was a $25,000 reserve in the budget from the water fund, and that it would be good policy to renew water lines. He said during the past three months, there has been an average of 23 per cent of waste of water, indicating leaking water mains or meter trouble.

NEW MAYOR

E. G. Warner, rancher, 1516 Willits street, last night was chosen mayor by the Santa Ana city council. Warner is the only member of the present council who was elected at the city election in 1931.

McBride maintained that the city had an excellent water record and had less wastage than most cities. He produced annual statements showing that in 1929, there was 24 per cent wastage; in 1930, 18 per cent; 1931, 19 per cent; 1932, 21 per cent, and 1933, 16 per cent.

He declared the entire system would have to be rebuilt to reduce the 14 per cent remaining unaccounted for, and he could not recommend such an expense for the results obtained.

LeGaye also urged that the utmost consideration be given drainage problems south of the city so that rights-of-way could be secured now to save the city needless expense in later years.

EMPLOY METZGAR TO GET RIGHT-OF-WAY

J. C. Metzgar was employed by the city last night to start work under City Engineer J. L. McBride in securing rights-of-way along South Main street to provide for the contemplated widening work.

McBride explained that the cost of hiring a worker will be charged to the state gasoline tax funds and will total $100 to $150. He said that Metzgar was a good man to handle the work because he owned property on the street.

Metzgar was named by McBride after the city council authorized him to employ someone.

Grant Use of City Park for Old Age Pension Meeting

Use of Birch Park on July 1 for a public meeting to explain the old age revolving pension plan was granted by the city council last night, on application of J. O. Nichols.

Nichols requested permission to take a free will offering to provide amplifiers and pay expenses of Dr. Townsend of Long Beach, originator of the pension plan, who will be a speaker.

WARNER NAMED NEW MAYOR BY CITY COUNCIL

Reorganization of the city council was completed last night, with Councilman E. G. Warner being elected mayor to fill the position left vacant by the resignation of Paul Witmer two weeks ago.

After assuming the chairmanship of the trustees, Warner appointed Fred Rowland as police commissioner, to fill the post left vacant by himself, and Plummer Burns as street and park superintendent, a job formerly held by A. C. Hasenjaeger, who resigned recently.

Warner was nominated by William Penn and was elected without opposition. In a short talk, he thanked the councilmen for naming him mayor and accepted the responsibility and extra work that the position entails.

Warner is the only member of the present council who was elected by the voters in 1931. Each of the other four has been appointed by the council to fill a vacancy. Warner is an orange rancher and lives on Willits street.

GROUP ASKS PERMIT TO MEET IN MUSEUM

Sigma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, national literary society, last night asked the city council for permission to use the Bowers Memorial museum on the second and fourth Friday nights of each month.

Mrs. F. E. Coulter, named in the letter as a sponsor of the group, was present at the council meeting on another matter and said she saw no reason why the request should be granted, since the organization was of a social nature and members had been meeting in their homes.

The matter was referred to the museum board.

He could not walk unassisted and admitted he had drunk a pint of whiskey shortly before the wreck, according to police reports. His car crashed into the parked machine of Don G. Parks, 822 South

Parton street, and tore off a rear fender. No one was hurt.

SUCH IS FAME!

When Man of War "sits" for a sculptor, the artist must be every bit as famous as the greatest thoroughbred ever to step on an American track. So when it was decided to have a model of "Big Red" cast in bronze and then plated with gold, Herbert Haseltine, famous French sculptor, got the job. Here are the artist and his model at Faraway Farms, Lexington, Ky.

JIM LONDOS HAILED KING OF WRESTLERS

NEW YORK, June 26.—(UP)—Wrestling today has Jim Londos, stateside Greek strong man and the greatest attraction in mat history, as undisputed world heavyweight champion.

Londos, who has earned more than $100,000 in 15 years of campaigning, won the title last night by bashing Jim Browning, Missouri's giant hog-caller, about Madison Square Garden bowl's ring.

More than 25,000 fans, a banner Eastern wrestling crowd, saw the Greek escape time and again from Browning's boa constrictor legs and finally pin him in one hour, 10 minutes and 10 seconds. It was a one-fall affair.

Thus ended a four-year debate of vast ramifications as to who should lay sole claim to the crown—a crown that is more valuable now probably than the title in any other sport. Wrestling today is profitable.

"I will be an active champion," Londos announced. "I am ready to meet any worthy challenger. My manager, Ed White, is negotiating for matches with Ed Don George and 'Strangler' Lewis."

Although he spent his early life in Greece, Jerry is a naturalized American citizen.

Lance Leads L. A. City Golf Meet

Los Angeles, June 26.—(UP)—George Lance, three times Indiana state golf champion, today led a field of 300 in the city golf championships at Griffith park after having qualified with the low mark of 70 late yesterday.

Tagging at Lance's heels was Bruce McCormick with a par 71.

MISS CRUICKSHANK IS INJURED

Swinging into the final week of the National Night Ball league's first-half schedule, Santa Ana plays one of its two remaining games here tonight. The lowly Long Beach Admirals, dubbed by some league critics as the Rear-Admirals, will be making their first start of the season inside the Municipal Bowl.

Aside from its miserable effort against Huntington Beach last week, when the league's leading Oiler's pipped the year's biggest score, 23-0, Long Beach has made a better showing than a humble status in the standings indicates. 'Lefty' Beeson, the oldtime major league ball player, has been succeeded as manager by "Lefty" Beeson who was a coach for Huntington Beach in '32. Beeson expects to have his strongest lineup intact tonight, with both Bobby Dalton and Deane Downer back in the box after absences of two weeks. Dalton has been on the injured list. Downer on a vacation. Roy Robinson also will be available.

Lichtenwalter, hero of the Oiler's victory, stopped the Juniors with four hits and fanned 13.

The Santa Ana 20-30 club remained in the warm pennant scramble by shading the South in the last inning, products of McBain's walk, Cameron's double and Walker's double broke up the struggle.

President Kenneth Morrison and Secretary Lloyd Banks announced today that the postponed game of June 14 would be played in the Bowl Friday night. The schedule for the final games of the City league's first half:

FOUR S. PRO STARS QUALIFY FOR OPEN GOLF

SANDWICH, England, June 26.—(UP)—Paced by the stylish Mac Smith, America's four aces competing for the British Open golf championship today successfully passed the two qualifying rounds and will start from scratch in the 72-hole tournament proper beginning tomorrow.

Smith had a sub-par 73 for an aggregate of 148. Meantime Denny Shute, the defending champion, also was scoring a 73 for 149, and Gene Sarazen and Joe Kirkwood each had 75's for totals of 150.

Henry Cotton, the British player who is attached to a Brussels club, followed yesterday's St. George's record-breaking 66 with a 75 at Deal, the other course used for the qualifying rounds.

He was out in par 37, but went one over par with a 38 coming home. His aggregate of 141 placed him level with two other British professionals, Percy Alliss and James Adams.

Sarazen clipped a stroke from par in going out in 35, but had a 39, 2 strokes over on the incoming nine.

Sarazen started shakily, taking three putts on the first hole. He was also erratic from the tee but made several remarkable recoveries, and, except for the opening hole, putted well. He hit the pin with 30-foot putts on the fourth and fifth holes. He continued to lip the cup with long putts on the inward nine. He just missed holing a run-up approach to the 14th but missed the four-foot putt which was left.

Shute was often in trouble. He pulled his drive into the rough at the first hole and played a weak iron into a ditch. From there to the turn he was all over the course.

Shute steadied somewhat coming in, although he was several times in the rough. He took three strokes to reach each of the 15th, 16th and 17th holes, but sent home a magnificent second shot on the 18th.

Smith, out in a sparkling 32, four strokes below par, spoiled his chances for a St. George's course record by taking a 41 coming home.

Sweeney Qualifies

Two of the three Anglo-American amateurs may have failed to qualify, while Robert Sweeney of New York and London had a 59 for an aggregate of 145 to be well within the probable qualifying limit of 152.

Douglas Grant, former Californian, had a 74 for 153, and Eric Chambers, a former American who now lives in London, scored 77-156.

Stricken three times during the past school term, Cook decided to have the operation performed this summer in order to guard against any possible loss of time from his coaching duties this fall.

The Don mentor suffered his first attack during the Santa Ana-Chaffey football game at Ontario last November, and was rushed to a hospital in Upland. Because he was leading the Eastern conference, and in a position to clinch the championship, he postponed a recommended operation. Two weeks later he suffered another attack while coaching at Poly field, and was unable to accompany his team to San Bernardino. He recovered rapidly, however, and was able to guide his team on to the Southern California title.

A. J. (Bill) Cook, Santa Ana junior college's popular football coach, was in St. Joseph's hospital today following an appendicitis operation. His condition was reported to be good at noon.

Stricken three times during the past school term, Cook decided to have the operation performed this summer in order to guard against any possible loss of time from his coaching duties this fall.

The Don mentor suffered his first attack during the Santa Ana-Chaffey football game at Ontario last November, and was rushed to a hospital in Upland. Because he was leading the Eastern conference, and in a position to clinch the championship, he postponed a recommended operation. Two weeks later he suffered another attack while coaching at Poly field, and was unable to accompany his team to San Bernardino. He recovered rapidly, however, and was able to guide his team on to the Southern California title.

A. J. (Bill) Cook, Santa Ana junior college's popular football coach, was in St. Joseph's hospital today following an appendicitis operation. His condition was reported to be good at noon.

BLUFFING
Mr. Hull was only fooling recently when he invited the British to pay the war debts in goods instead of money.

It is true that the State Secretary is a Sunday school man and does not know much about poker. But his deficiency in that respect is more than made up by President Roosevelt. They got their heads together on the latest debt bluff, basing it on what is known in both diplomatic and poker circles as "calling the bluff" of the British.

As a matter of fact, the only way in which this whole inner war debt situation differs from the average high class poker game is that, in playing war debts, nobody pays. The honor of winning is the only stake.

Consequently, no negotiations are imminent for payment in goods, money or cigar store coupons and none is likely for a while.

FOOLISHNESS
Messrs Roosevelt and Hull did not really believe there would be a New Deal valedictory. He has far more invitations than he will be able to fill, but he will fill enough of them to make a loud national noise.

His speeches will not be under the auspices of the Republican National Committee. He is almost as skeptical of the lads in control there as he is of the New Dealers.

It will be bad news to the administration, already dissatisfied with its political situation in the farm belt.

DILLINGER
The Justice Department took a strong private lacing from the moralists when it issued its "shoot-to-kill" orders against Dillinger weeks ago. Protests piled in on the department.

That is the real reason it went to the other extreme this time and eliminated the "dead or alive" clause from the Dillinger reward. The result could be disastrous.

Officers might try to capture Dillinger alive so as to get the reward. That would play into Dillinger's hands, because his game always has been to shoot first and ask questions later.

The next thing would be for the government to pass out butterfly nets to its agents so they will not soil Dillinger's mustache when they get him.

Never fear. The "dead or alive" clause was eliminated only for the benefit of the moralists. The man who kills Dillinger will get the reward, and no questions asked.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin
TEAMWORK
New York insiders see significant angles in the President's choice of Secretary Frances Perkins to act on his behalf in handling the thorny steel dispute.

It implies a shift in the administration's attitude to closer sympathy with labor. Management was getting the breaks with General Johnson in charge. The informed rate it a move to bolster Bill Green with his Federation followers as a reward for his valuable services in heading off a dangerous explosion. Also, it's a gesture of appreciation to the Amalgamated for its last minute decision to talk things over instead of shooting the works. Labor is to be given plenty of evidence that the government will assure it a square shake in ensuing negotiations.

This is another case where back-stage teamwork between the administration and conservative labor leaders has saved the government a peck of trouble. Green and his associates retain their jobs because the government has seen to it they were given ropes to show from time to time. In return they've kept the radical union element in hand—thereby preventing a series of outbursts that would have wrecked recovery and might easily have led to a more acute crisis than any we have faced.

STAR
There's a further neat slant to the appointment in the way it strengthens Secretary Perkins with the A. F. of L. The naming of a non-member—and a woman—to head the Labor Department still sticks in Federation crawls. Now if the Secretary works things out to wring union recognition from the steel bosses—the betting is 5 to 1 that she will—the Federation will just have to recognize that she has the goods.

Miss Perkins' star has been dimmed to date by showier planets in the Washington sky. The wise predict she will soon outshine most of the past year's headlines.

BOSSES
Steel executives grumble plenty in private about the Perkins election. They claim her idea of settling a labor controversy is to grant every union demand.

Wolman—head of the auto mediation board—has told New York friends her intervention several times broke up settlements arranged by his board which appeared to give management the edge. But you can write it on your cuff that the steel industry will swallow most of the Perkins prescription with less fuss than you would expect.

The bosses' psychology has changed notably since Green got the strike postponed. They recognize that his maneuver put them at a disadvantage in public relations and most of the ranking leaders now favor a compromise rather than outright defiance which would land the government on their necks.

Of course they'll fight a rear-guard action. Chiefly they're concerned with salvaging proportional representation for their company unions—a la motor industry—in the belief that this will check Amalgamated recruiting. This is against Amalgamated's plan for all-or-nothing representation based on a majority vote in employee elections. But the steel companies are already willing to concede that Amalgamated exists—and even to deal with it on a proportionate basis. That's equivalent to an admission by Ham Fish that Stalin is one of nature's noblemen.

Some of the bitter-enders want a court fight on whatever decision Miss Perkins renders but they'll probably be overruled. Myron Taylor of U. S. Steel is back in harness and it's understood he favors peace.

TIMIDITY
Insurance companies are deeply interested in a project to insure corporation officers and directors against liability arising from the Securities Act. Most investment bankers feel that risks are reasonable since the Act has been amended but company officials are still nervous and their timidity is holding up the parade.

The plan will go through if a satisfactory method of computing premiums can be devised. The cost of insurance would be added to the syndicate offering price. Estimates indicate it would only amount to 1-15 of a point.

It would be bad news for strike suiters. The insurance companies would fight instead of settling out of court—which would be discouraging to those who chisel profits out of nuisance value. Also the insurance people would maintain informative index of persistent litigants.

Conversely it would be good news for investors. They would have the added protection of an independent insurance check on every offering. Naturally no issue would be insured unless the insurer were satisfied that everything was okay. Experts agree the step should speed up needed financing by curing that rabbit feeling among issuers.

CUBA
The informed say the statement by a Cuban commission that American bank loans and bond issues in the early days of the Machado regime can be legally repudiated was arranged as a desperate attempt to strengthen Mendieta by giving him an excuse to duck obligations and also increase his popularity by enabling him to put one over on the hated Yankees. Wall Street commented tartly that Mendieta was supposed to be its friend.

The Chase Bank's vehement protest is said to be inspired more by the need for a legal defense against the grief of additional stockholders' suits than by any hope of swaying the Cubans.

Experts remark that the Chase has a more convincing argument if it wishes to use it. The basis of repudiation is the fact that the loans were made to a de facto government. The "outs" of today—whom Mendieta is trying to appease—may hold power de facto tomorrow and might want to borrow money themselves. Would they get it once this precedent is established? This suggestion would probably be more effective than the briefs of a battalion of lawyers.

BIT
Insiders learn that Britain is having a terrible time trying to prove to some of her debtors that their owings are entirely different from the British debt to the United States and by no means to be dealt with the same way. They can't seem to see the logic. New York gets a chortle from the spectacle of the biter bit.

QUESTIONNAIRE DISCUSSED BY CHURCH GROUP

FULLERTON, June 26.—The questionnaire as presented by Philip Hammond, valedictorian of the Fullerton Union High school senior class, to glean material for 18th amendment, 83 per cent answered "Yes" to the question, "Do you think there should be better control of liquor than at present?"

It was remarked by the Rev. Graham C. Hunter that Dr. Roy Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church, Los Angeles, who talked at the Fullerton high school commencement, is using some of the statistics as presented by young Hammond on many occasions, and is pronouncing the results of the questionnaire hopeful for the future.

Sixty-eight percent admitted exceeding parents' permission; 70 per cent said they are on intimate terms with father or mother; 53 per cent said they would take advantage of attending an affair without parents' permission if there was no chance of the parents finding it out.

That office holders are not grafters was the opinion of 58 per cent; 65 per cent said they would run for public office; 59 per cent felt that the wrong type of person, generally speaking, is holding office; 64 per cent said that as a whole they did not consider the capitalist system a success.

The students agreed, 86 per cent, that the American people as a whole are capable of efficient democratic government; 66 per cent answered "yes" to the question: "If you were engaged in a lawsuit with a corporation, and had an opportunity to collect more than the actual damages due you, with perfect security to yourself, would you accept the money?"

An interesting answer was given to the question, "Would one be justified in refusing to bear arms in an aggressive war?" The whole group answered "yes" and the boys outnumbered the girls in the answer.

Regarding compulsory military training abolishment in state universities 64 per cent agreed it should be done.

Ninety per cent of the students agreed they would carry on business and friendly terms with Japanese, if America and Japan were at war.

Regarding prohibition, 75 per cent agreed that the conditions economically and socially, have not improved by repeal of the 18th amendment. 83 per cent answered "Yes" to the question, "Do you think there should be better control of liquor than at present?"

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

BLUFFING
Mr. Hull was only fooling recently when he invited the British to pay the war debts in goods instead of money.

It is true that the State Secretary is a Sunday school man and does not know much about poker. But his deficiency in that respect is more than made up for by President Roosevelt. They got their heads together on the latest debt settlement, and it is known in both diplomatic and poker circles as "calling the bluff" of the British.

As a matter of fact, the only way in which this whole inner war debt situation differs from the average high class poker game is that, in playing war debts, nobody pays. The honor of winning is the only stake.

Consequently, no negotiations are imminent for payment in goods, money or cigar store coupons and none is likely for a while.

FOOLISHNESS
Messrs Roosevelt and Hull did not really believe there would be a transfer of goods at this time. The truth is their private economic advisers told them before they wrote the note that it would be virtually impossible to work out a transfer of goods at this time.

There is one simple insurmountable reason. It is that the British government has no goods of its own. To pay in goods, it would have to buy them from private producers. But at what price?

If she bought tin at the fixed world price and transferred it to us without a profit, she might as well transfer the money. If she tried to make a profit on the transaction, the price at which we would receive the tin would make it too high. We might better buy the tin from the private producers ourselves.

Either way, there would be no sense to the transaction.

MOTIVES

The only reason the Roosevelt-Hull poker team invited payment in goods is because the British had insisted they could not transfer money. Messrs Roosevelt and Hull did not intend that their call of that bluff should be taken as seriously as it was. The newspapers picked that news idea out of a single sentence in the body of the Hull note and made headlines out of it.

Mr. Roosevelt was so perturbed that his spokesmen suggested to newsmen they were over-playing the suggestion. The White House hinted that it was not by any means an important feature of the note.

HOPES

There are economists in the State Department who believe that, within a year or two, when world trade relations get somewhere near normal, transfers may be worked out on the basis of paying goods. It is, of course, ridiculous to think that any substantial portion of the debts could be paid that way, or any other.

You can, however, readily see where the existing situation leaves the debt issue.

It is just where it was—on the poker table.

QUESTIONNAIRE DISCUSSED BY CHURCH GROUP

FULLERTON, June 26.—The questionnaire as presented by Philip Hammond, valedictorian of the Fullerton Union High school senior class, to glean material for his address, was discussed Sunday night at the Presbyterian church, and in the discussion some interesting points were brought out.

It was remarked by the Rev. Graham C. Hunter that Dr. Roy Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church, Los Angeles, who talked at the Fullerton high school commencement, is using some of the statistics as presented by young Hammond on many occasions, and is pronouncing the results of the questionnaire hopeful for the future.

Sixty-eight percent admitted exceeding parents' permission; 70 per cent said they are on intimate terms with father or mother; 53 per cent said they would take advantage of attending an affair without parents' permission if there was no chance of the parents finding it out.

That office holders are not grafters was the opinion of 58 per cent; 65 per cent said they would run for public office; 39 per cent felt that the wrong type of person, generally speaking, is holding office; 64 per cent said that as a whole they did not consider the capitalistic system a success.

The students agreed, 86 per cent, that the American people as a whole are capable of efficient democratic government; 66 per cent answered "yes" to the question: "If you were engaged in a lawsuit with a corporation, and had an opportunity to collect more than the actual damages due you, with perfect security to yourself, would you accept the money?"

An interesting answer was given to the question: "Would one be justified in refusing to bear arms in an aggressive war? The whole group answered 'yes' and the boys outnumbered the girls in the answer.

Regarding compulsory military training abolishment in state universities 64 per cent agreed it should be done.

Ninety per cent of the students agreed they would carry on business and friendly terms with Japanese, if America and Japan were at war.

Regarding prohibition, 75 per cent agreed that the conditions, economically and socially, have not improved by repeal of the 18th amendment. 33 per cent answered "Yes" to the question, "Do you think there should be better control of liquor than at present?"

LEGION AUXILIARY HOLDS CARD PARTY

FULLERTON, June 26.—Fifteen prizes were distributed following playing of contract, bridge and "500" at a party sponsored by American Legion auxiliary, at the Legion hall in Hillcrest park recently.

The party was given under the auspices of Mrs. Howard Wilkinson and her committee, Mrs. Y. W. Ramsey, Mrs. George Willis, Mrs. Cella Michael, Mrs. Leo C. Burdick, Mrs. Martin Bullis, Mrs. E. S. Kirby, Mrs. W. B. Swain and Mrs. H. C. Askey. The hostesses served cake and coffee as refreshments. Mrs. Wilkinson presented each of her committee with pastel shaded corsages to match their evening gowns.

Prize winners were Mrs. I. Rayne, Mrs. W. E. Tripp and Mrs. Bert Stolle, special prizes, and Mrs. C. C. Gibbs and Leon Weiss first, and Mrs. R. Farnsworth and R. Farnsworth, second, at contract. Mrs. W. E. Tripp and Ted Masterson, first, and Mrs. Paul Lazares and Byron Heltzman, second, at bridge; Mrs. Edna Goodrum and E. S. BOYS SIGNING NOW FOR STAY AT Y. M. CAMP

This week is "sign-up" week for Camp Osceola at the various Orange county Y. M. C. A. centers, according to Boys' Secretary D. H. Tibbals, of Santa Ana.

Tibbals is out to sign up a total of 40 boys for the Santa Ana session at Osceola, which opens on July 11. Meantime, Secretaries Conrad Jongewaard and J. B. Wilbur, of Anaheim and Orange, are working to complete the enrollments for the Anaheim-Orange camp which begins next Friday.

The following boys have already signed up for the Santa Ana period: Ferris Wall, Horace Munger, Gene Smith, Bruce Ragan, Arthur Heard, Philip Laman, Robert Long, Charles Lloyd and Howard Rapp.

Tibbals states that younger boys are being accepted for the camp, any boy of 10 years of age or older being eligible to attend. Every precaution is being taken to safeguard the health and safety of the boys at camp, and he expressed the hope that no one will be kept away by fear of health conditions.

This week the camp is occupied by 40 Girl Reserves, from Anaheim, under the direction of Mrs. Conrad Jongewaard. Visitors at the camp yesterday included Rev. T. H. Walker, of Anaheim, who conducted the morning worship services, and Secretary Wilbur of Orange and Ralph Smiley of Santa Ana. The visitors report the camp in exceptionally attractive condition, and a splendid program of work and play being carried on by the Girl Reserves. Numerous improvements have been made in the camp equipment this year, including additional hot and cold showers and extensions to the kitchen. Mrs. Jennie Keeline is in charge of the kitchen, this being her tenth season at the camp, and the food is up to the usual high standards.

Detailed information concerning the camp may be secured by telephoning the local Y. M. C. A. office. D. H. Tibbals has charge of arrangements for Santa Ana, while J. B. Wilbur in Orange and Conrad Jongewaard in Anaheim are handling plans for their camps, respectively. Each of these secretaries will be glad to give parents or boys full information about dates, transportation, prices and other details connected with the camp.

Osceola is located one mile south of the South Fork of the Santa Ana river, and seven miles above Seven Oaks, in the San Bernardino mountains. The elevation is 6000 feet. The camp is situated among the tall pine trees of the high mountains, alongside the Santa Ana river, where the trout are biting well this season. The camp equipment is of a permanent nature, providing comfortable quarters and adequate protection in all weather. The Lions lodge is the center of the camp, containing the social hall, the dining room and the kitchen. Ten cabins house the campers, while a hospital cabin, shower baths and swimming pool provide further for comfort.

The new road from Angelus camp to South Fork cuts off about five miles of distance and eliminates a great deal of heavy grade, making the camp much more easily accessible than formerly. It is hard to find a more delightful spot for a summer outing for boys and girls than is afforded by Osceola. In the judgment of those who have recently visited the place.

Congress Ends in a Note of Harmony

Adjournment is music to ANY congressman's ears! After the House formally voted to forego any program of merrymaking as being undignified, the representatives lost all restraint when the Marine Band hit it up. This was the ecstatic scene in the staid House as the joyous lawmakers joined in loudly on a "Yankee Doodle" chorus.

COUNCIL NAMES TRI-COUNTY 33 SPECIAL GROUP TO MEET CITY OFFICERS NEXT FRIDAY

Completing an investigation and discussion of many weeks, 33 special police officers were named by the council last night on the recommendation of Personnel Officer Lloyd Banks. Fourteen of the officers are city employees.

The first investigation revealed that many special police had moved away or no longer needed their appointment. Letters were finally sent to all the officers, asking that they apply for reappointment and fill out detailed applications. Seventeen of the original list failed to answer the letter. The position does not carry a salary and is granted to watchmen, reporters, theater owners, city employees, and others having occasion to need police authority during their work.

City employees given special police commissions were Earl Lutz, William W. Garvin, M. E. Ward, D. W. Morehouse, D. O. Minter, Mark McWhorter, Jerome B. Stephenson, H. E. Chapman, Elmer C. Gates, S. I. Preble, Harold Pickering, Caleb Raah, E. L. Heiss and R. L. Montgomery.

Others named were Dorothy M. Russick, Mrs. Ray H. Snyder, Mrs. Charles Clem, and Mrs. A. R. Miller, policewomen, and H. E. Holmes, Thomas E. Finney, Otto S. Clyde, Lester Fountain, Victor M. Walker, Robert Gelvet, John Dunlap, Roch Bradshaw, N. H. Floyd, Herbert E. Carter, E. B. Frisby, B. B. Adams, S. B. Kaufman, Bert Dawson and F. C. Pierce. Frank Lockhart was named last week.

AUXILIARY NAMES OFFICERS JULY 9

FULLERTON, June 26.—Mrs. E. S. Kirby, president, and Mrs. Lois Corcoran were nominated for president of Fullerton American Legion auxiliary Monday night at a meeting held at the home of the president. Election of officers is slated for July 9 at a meeting at the clubhouse in Hillcrest park.

Other nominees are, Mrs. Mabel Swain, first vice president; Mrs. Edith Bullis, second vice president; Mrs. Viona Burdick, secretary; Mrs. Florence Willis, treasurer, and Mrs. Margaret Askey, chaplain.

Reports of general committee work featured the business meeting. Mrs. Kirby read an interesting report from the school revealing the way the money supplied by the American Legion auxiliary is spent for milk for under-nourished children. Mrs. Burdick read the publicity report.

It is expected that J. E. Lewis, chairman of the water committee, will make the request. June 29 at 7:30 p. m. is the day and hour tentatively set for the county-wide water conference. PROGRAM PRESENTED

WESTMINSTER, June 26.—Guests from the Christian and Missionary Alliance church of Santa Ana presented a program of male quartet numbers, vocal solo and duet numbers and a reading at the Westminster Presbyterian church Sunday evening, with the local pastor, Dr. John G. Klene, preaching a short sermon for the last half of the service hour.

Young people of the C. E. and their superintendent, Mrs. Marie Hare, entertained and served refreshments of punch and cake.

CHALLENGE TO LIVE RELIGION VOICED AT MEET

Declaring that the principle trouble with churchmen of today is that they are satisfied with the world as they find it and that too often their God is the dollar, the Rev. Cleveland Kleihauer, pastor of Beverly Christian church in Los Angeles was the principal speaker last night at the county-wide meeting of church brother-hoods held in the city park.

He said that sometimes he is of the opinion that brotherhoods have little right to the name. The situation in which the world finds itself today, he declared, is a mockery of the term brotherhood. Lodges, like the church brother-hoods, he said, are founded on the spirit of fraternalism and brother-hood of man.

"If Masonic orders, other fraternal lodges, Rotarians, Kiwanis and other similar organizations really practiced brotherhood," he declared, "the world would not be in the condition it is today. The trouble with us is that we have taught brotherhood and practiced individualism. We must stop playing with the terms of religion and realize that there is no greater need in the world today than for Christian men to accept the implications of their profession."

"In the eyes of Christ there is nothing so important as the lives of men and women. In America we have said the most important things are commerce and industry until we have almost lost sight of the value of human life. Christ tested every institution, tradition and law by its ability to administer to human welfare."

"The great challenge to the men of the church today is to accept the implications of their religion. They should lay their religion down and analyze it. Many of them will find that they have never had the experience of comparing religion with the social, economic and industrial problems of life. Even the men of the church are more material than spiritual minded and the most sensitive nerve of many of them is the one that ends in their purse."

Both preceding and following the address by the Rev. Mr. Kleihauer the chorus choir of the First Presbyterian church of Hollywood presented an excellent musical program under direction of Prof. J. D. Nield, choir director. Solosists with the choir were Dr. James Murray, baritone; Mrs. Rosalie Barker Fry, contralto; Miss Mary Tisert, soprano and Miss Fern Short, violinist.

The musical program also included number by a men's chorus, known as Mac's Men, and received warm approval of those present. It was regarded as an outstanding musical program.

BOYS SIGNING NOW FOR STAY AT Y. M. CAMP

This week is "sign-up" week for Camp Osceola at the various Orange county Y. M. C. A. centers, according to Boys' Secretary D. H. Tibbals, of Santa Ana.

Tibbals is out to sign up a total of 40 boys for the Santa Ana session at Osceola, which opens on July 11. Meantime, Secretaries Conrad Jongewaard and J. B. Wilbur, of Anaheim and Orange, are working to complete the enrollments for the Anaheim-Orange camp which begins next Friday.

The following boys have already signed up for the Santa Ana period: Ferris Wall, Horace Munger, Gene Smith, Bruce Ragan, Arthur Beard, Philip Laman, Robert Long, Charles Lloyd and Howard Rapp.

Tibbals states that younger boys are being accepted for the camp, any boy of 10 years of age or older being eligible to attend. Every precaution is being taken to safeguard the health and safety of the boys at camp, and he expressed the hope that no one will be kept away by fear of health conditions.

This week the camp is occupied by 40 Girl Reserves, from Anaheim, under the direction of Mrs. Conrad Jongewaard. Visitors at the camp yesterday included Rev. T. H. Walker, of Anaheim, who conducted the morning worship services, and Secretaries Wilbur of Orange and Ralph Smedley of Santa Ana. The visitors report the camp in exceptional attractive condition, and a splendid program of work and play being carried on by the Girl Reserves. Numerous improvements have been made in the camp equipment this year, including additional hot and cold showers and extensions to the kitchen. Mrs. Jennie Kenline is in charge of the kitchen, this being her tenth season at the camp, and the food is up to the usual high standards.

Detailed information concerning the camp may be secured by telephoning the local Y. M. C. A. office. D. H. Tibbals has charge of arrangements for Santa Ana, while J. B. Wilbur in Orange and Conrad Jongewaard in Anaheim are handling plans for their camps, respectively. Each of these secretaries will be glad to give parents or boys full information about dates, transportation, prices and other details connected with the camp.

Osceola is located one mile south of the South Fork of the Santa Ana river, and seven miles above Seven Oaks in the San Bernardino mountains. The elevation is 6000 feet. The camp is situated among the tall pine trees of the high mountains, alongside the Santa Ana river, where the trout are biting well this season. The camp equipment is of permanent nature, providing comfortable quarters and adequate protection in all weather. The Lions lodge is the center of the camp, containing the social hall, the dining room and the kitchen. Ten cabins house the campers, while a hospital cabin, shower baths and swimming pool provide further for comfort.

The new road from Angelus camp to South Fork cuts off about five miles of distance and eliminates a great deal of heavy grade, making the camp much more easily accessible than formerly. It is hard to find a more delightful spot for a summer outing for boys and girls than is afforded by Osceola, in the judgment of those who have recently visited the place.

Congress Ends in a Note of Harmony

Adjournment is music to ANY congressman's ears! After the House formally voted to forego any program of merrymaking as being undignified, the representatives lost all restraint when the Marine Band hit it up. This was the ecstatic scene in the staid House as the joyous lawmakers joined in loudly on a "Yankee Doodle" chorus.

Friends Give Surprise Party Honoring Birthday

Occasioned by Mrs. J. W. Parkinson's birthday anniversary, an enjoyable bridge party was given Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Frisby, 1012 Wilson Drive. Mr. and Mrs. Parkinson had been dinner guests in the home, and were very much surprised when additional friends arrived for a special celebration.

The party had been planned by Mrs. Frisby, Mrs. William Lawrence and Mrs. V. C. Shidder. Flowers decking rooms of the home included an especially lovely bouquet sent in by Mrs. Parkinson's sister, Mrs. M. D. Haskell.

Prizes in the evening's card contest were won by Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence and Mr. and Mrs. Parkinson, scoring first and second high and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Perkins, low. In addition to her award, Mrs. Parkinson received a tablecloth with a set of six napkins as a gift of the assembled group of friends.

Mrs. Lawrence had baked a birthday cake which was served with other cakes and ice cream. Present were Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Clayton, Archie Perkins, L. A. Gowdy, William Lawrence, V. C. Shidder, E. E. Frisby, J. W. Parkinson, this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Slayden of Pasadena.

Home at Balboa Island Lends Setting for Luncheon

Enjoying the hospitality and pleasant surroundings of the John Harvey home on Balboa Island Friday afternoon, members of the Third Travel section held their last meeting of the season. New year books were distributed during the afternoon.

About 25 members and two guests, Mrs. Farel Jones of Hollywood and Miss Mildred Spicer of this city, participated in the event. Under direction of Mrs. J. F. Richards and her committee, a tempting covered-dish luncheon was served at tables brightened with pansies. Deep-toned dahlias had been arranged about rooms of the summer home.

The afternoon was passed informally, with some of the group playing bridge, others doing fancy work, and still others taking a walk around the island.

Mrs. C. P. Boyer, who has served the section as leader for the past two years, was given a vote of thanks in appreciation of her work for the group. In her absence Friday, Mrs. Perry Lewis, newly-elected assistant leader, presided. Mrs. F. P. Nicky will take over the duties of leader in September, when meetings will be resumed, with "Austria and Germany" as the program topic. Italy and adjacent islands have provided interesting material for the section's study during the year just drawing to a close.

Formal Afternoon Tea Is Compliment Paid Recent Bride

Introducing to scores of friends, their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Frank Earl Hilligass, in her new status as a young matron, Mrs. Roscoe G. Hewitt, mother of the recent bride, and Mrs. W. L. Duggan and Mrs. Lena Gulick Hewitt, her grandmothers, entertained delightfully Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Duggan, 222 South Sycamore street.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Hewitt, daughter of the Roscoe G. Hewitts, 524 South Ross street, and Frank Earl Hilligass was an event of June 6 in Yuma, and Saturday's tea was the first formal affair tendered the young bride since her return from a short honeymoon trip.

Lovely Flowers

The Duggan home was bright with flowers for the occasion, many of the blossoms having been sent by interested friends including Mrs. Charles Swanner and Miss Minnie Collins. In this charming floral setting the hostesses stood in line with their honor guest, to greet arriving friends. With them were Mrs. S. M. Bauman, aunt of Mr. Hilligass, while his sister, Miss Louise Hilligass, presided at the door.

The new Mrs. Hilligass wore a lovely frock of red-dotted white organdy, its tiers of narrow ruffles piped with the same cherry red. With her simply dressed blonde hair, her lovely coloring and the quaintly Victorian lines of her frock, she looked as though she might have just stepped from the heavy frame of some ancestral portrait in the old South, home of her forebears.

Assisting throughout the home were Mrs. Roy W. Beall, Mrs. Eugene McBurney, Mrs. Edyth Scott and Mrs. Ralph Davis of Beaumont, a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hewitt.

At Tea Hour

Invited to the flower-embellished dining room, guests were served coffee by Mrs. Charles Swanner, or tea by Miss Helen M. Stauffer, seated at a long table laden with silver platters of ice in various bridal motifs, tiny cakes, nuts and sweetmeats. The table was striking in its white and silver details, the handsome Chinese embroidered banquet cloth being centered with a great mound of maidenhair and white gardenias, and lighted by slim white tapers in crystal candelabra.

Guests hidden to meet the new Mrs. Hilligass included friends of the three hostesses as well as those of the bride's girlhood and were from nearby communities as well as from Santa Ana.

Included in the list were Mesdames Manley Natland, Harvey Spears, H. L. Wagner, Long Beach; C. E. Holgate, P. A. Connor, E. Kreiter, T. Brackett, Farel Jones, D. Friedenberg, Los Angeles; H. Bliss, E. R. Insley, Altadena; Lucian Shaw, Lucian Shaw Jr., Hartley Shaw, A. E. Lawrie, Miss Kate Manson, Glendale; Mrs. W. A. Wegner, Miss Mary Barrett, Huntington Park; Mrs. C. W. Gift Shower is Sequel To Afternoon Spent Playing Bridge

Making Miss Maurine Mathes their incentive for entertaining, Mrs. Frank B. Miller and her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Sundquist, presided late the past week at a desert bridge of distinctive charm in the Miller home, 1413 Bush street. Announcement of the date of June 30 for the marriage of Miss Mathes and William Floyd Croddy was made very recently.

Mrs. Miller's own garden yielded sufficient flowers to use in lavish decoration of the home, with dahlias in every conceivable color and form brought into prominence. Demure little pompon varieties were reserved for small tables where a dessert course was served at the beginning of the afternoon, while large display dahlias were placed about the rooms.

Many Gifts Presented Prospective Bride At Pretty Party

Following shortly after announcement of the engagement and approaching wedding date of Miss Emalea Richards and Hugh Harris Anderson of Pasadena, was a delightful party with which Mrs. W. H. Lowe entertained Saturday night, complimenting her niece, Miss Richards.

The Lowe home at 408 East Sixth street was bright with dahlias and zinnias in soft rich hues. Adding interest to the pleasant evening planned by the hostess, were several musical numbers. Miss Richards is one of the city's prominent young violin artists, and she and her uncle, Frank Richards, played a succession of duos with Mrs. Frank Richards at the piano.

Guests made the affair a bridal shower and there were countless lovely gifts for the bride-elect to admire and claim for her future home. The marriage of Miss Richards and Mr. Anderson is to take place on Saturday, June 30, in the Stanford Memorial chapel at Palo Alto.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe received as guests in addition to Miss Richards, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Richards, Malcolm, Helen, Evelyn and Eldon Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Richards, Mrs. and Mrs. James Richards, Mrs. Helen A. Richards of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henry, Miss Helen Lowe, Miss Roberta Nichols, Messrs. George Cross and William Lowe.

Milk and Orange Juice Diet

The second day, and the sun was shining and the neuritis not too bad to stand, but could I stand the hunger? That was the burning question, for the second day is always a test of endurance. This day started off with coffee with hot skim milk taken 30 minutes after arising, a glass of orange juice preceding it by 20 minutes. The rest of the day was divided into 2-hour intervals with an 8-ounce glass of whole milk at one time interval and 8 ounces of orange juice at the next feeding time. I missed coffee and solid food so badly, I had to weaken at the 8 p. m. feeding time and a cup of coffee with hot skim milk was taken.

Home at Balboa Island
Lends Setting for Luncheon

Enjoying the hospitality and pleasant surroundings of the John Harvey home on Balboa Island Friday afternoon, members of the Elbert Travel section held their third meeting of the season. New year books were distributed during the afternoon.

About 25 members and two guests, Mrs. Farel Jones of Hollywood and Miss Mildred Spry of this city, participated in the event. Under direction of Mrs. J. F. Richards and her committee, a tempting covered-dish luncheon was served at tables brightened with pansies. Deep-toned dahlias had been arranged about rooms of the summer home.

The afternoon was passed informally, with some of the group playing bridge, others doing fancy work, and still others taking a walk around the island.

Mrs. C. P. Boyer, who has served the section as leader for the past two years, was given a vote of thanks in appreciation of her work for the group. In her absence Friday, Mrs. Perry Lewis, newly-elected assistant leader, presided. Mrs. F. P. Nicky will take over the duties of leader in September, when meetings will be resumed, with "Austria and Germany" as the program topic. Italy and adjacent islands have provided interesting material for the section's study during the year just drawing to a close.

Formal Afternoon Tea
Is Compliment Paid
Recent Bride

Introducing to scores of friends, their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Frank Earl Hilligass, in her new status as a young matron, Mrs. Roscoe G. Hewitt, together with the recent bride, and Mrs. W. L. Dugan and Mrs. Lena Gulick Hewitt, her grandmothers, entertained delightfully Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Dugan, 222 South Sycamore street.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Hewitt, daughter of the Roscoe G. Hewitt, 524 South Ross street, and Frank Earl Hilligass was an event of June 6 in Yuma, and Saturday's tea was the first formal affair tendered the young bride since her return from a short honeymoon trip.

Lovely Flowers

The Dugan home was bright with flowers for the occasion, many of the blossoms having been sent by interested friends including Mrs. Charles Swanner and Miss Minnie Collins. In this charming floral setting the hostesses stood in line with their honor guest, to greet arriving friends. With them were Mrs. M. Bauman, aunt of Mr. Hilligass, while his sister, Miss Louise Hilligass, presided at the door.

The new Mrs. Hilligass wore a lovely frock of red-dotted white organdy, its tiers of narrow ruffles piped with the same cherry red. With her simply dressed blonde hair, her lovely coloring and the quality Victorian lines of her frock, she looked as though she might have just stepped from the heavy frame of some ancestral portrait in the old South home of her forebears.

Assisting throughout the home were Mrs. Roy W. Beall, Mrs. Eugene McBurney, Mrs. Edyth Scott and Mrs. Ralph Davis of Beaumont, a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hewitt.

At Tea Hour

Invited to the flower-embellished dining room, guests were served coffee by Mrs. Charles G. Swanner, or tea by Miss Helen M. Stauffer, seated at a long table laden with silver platters of iced cakes, jams and sweetmeats. The table was striking in its white and silver details, the handsome Chinese embroidered banquet cloth being centered with a great mound of maidenhair and white gardenias, and lighted by slim white tapers in crystal candelabra.

Guests hidden to meet the new Mrs. Hilligass included friends of the three hostesses as well as those of the bride's girlhood and were from nearby communities as well as from Santa Ana.

Included in the list were Messdames Manley Natland, Harvey Spears, H. L. Wagner, Long Beach; C. E. Holgate, F. A. O'Connor, E. Krieger, T. Bruckett, Farel Jones, D. Friedenberg, Los Angeles; H. Bliss, E. R. Insley, Altadena; Lucian Shaw, Lucian Shaw Jr., Hartley Shaw, A. E. Lawrie, Miss Kate Manson, Glendale; Mrs. W. A. Wegner, Miss Mary Barrett, Huntington Park; Mrs. C. W. From Santa Ana and vicinity were Mrs. J. H. Gulick, great grandmother of the bride; Mrs. S. M. Bauman, aunt of Mr. Hilligass; Messdames R. E. Coulter, P. E. Moore, L. M. Forney, Victor Montgomery, A. Playing Bridge

Making Miss Maurine Mathes their incentive for entertaining, Mrs. Frank B. Miller and her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Sundquist, presided late the past week at a dessert bridge of distinctive charm in the Miller home, 1413 Bush street. Announcement of the date of June 30 for the marriage of Miss Mathes and William Floyd Croddy was made very recently.

Mrs. Miller's own garden yielded sufficient flowers to use in lavish decoration of the home, with dahlias in every conceivable color and form brought into prominence. Demure little pompon varieties were reserved for small tables where a dessert course was served at the beginning of the afternoon, while large display dahlias were placed about the rooms.

Contract bridge was played, and Mrs. James Dickson assisted the hostesses in checking scores and other details of the game. Mrs. C. W. Hyde Jr. made high score with Mrs. Kenneth Coulson her nearest competitor. Gifts rewarding them were similar. It was with the award of prizes that the special tournament for Miss Mathes was introduced. Gifts ranged from dainty little finger towels to big fleecy terrycloth bath towels, all of which were showered upon her. There was another pleasant thought embodied in the afternoon, for Mr. Croddy had sent gardenias to his fiancée and to her hostesses, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Sundquist, and also to the mother and grandmother of the home, Mrs. T. B. Elliott.

Guests sharing the friendly affair with the hostesses and their honoree, Miss Mathes, were the latter's sister, Miss Marjorie Ann Mathes, and Mr. Croddy's sister, Mrs. Lynn C. Graves (Lorene Croddy), Mrs. Homer Chaney, Mrs. Harry Le Bard, Mrs. James Dickson, Mrs. C. W. Hyde Jr., Mrs. Richard Parker and her sister, Miss Clara McDermion of Tucson, the Misses Reva Hawkins, Tessa Childers, Myrtle Vencil, Frances Egge, Louise Young, William Plavay, Nell Marie Hinton, Mrs. Ralph Livingstone, Mrs. Kenneth Coulson, Mrs. Clarence McFadden, Mrs. John McFadden, Mrs. Robert Lowe, all of this vicinity; Mrs. W. C. Mathes, Mrs. Burke Mathes and Mrs. Kenneth Bathgate of Los Angeles.

Milk and Orange Juice Diet

The second day, and the sun was shining and the neuritis not too bad to stand, but could I stand the hunger? That was the burning question, for the second day is always a test of endurance. The day started off with coffee with hot skim milk taken 30 minutes after arising, a glass of orange juice preceding it by 20 minutes. The rest of the day was divided into 2-hour intervals with an 8-ounce glass of whole milk at one time interval and 6 ounces of orange juice at the next feeding time. I missed coffee and solid food so badly, I had to weaken at the 8 p. m. feeding time and a cup of coffee with hot skim milk was taken.

The painful aura, was loosening up and it was easier to move and use my arm and shoulder, so that was some reward for the day's punishment. But, I was still hungry and mightily depressed.

Ruth knows a thing or two about LOVELINESS

She removes cosmetics the Hollywood way—guards against unattractive Cosmetic Skin

EVERY girl has a right to be happy about her skin—to keep it velvety smooth and soft. And yet many a girl is actually herself to blame for skin that is coarse—drab—unlovely.

She thinks she removes cosmetics thoroughly, but actually she leaves bits of stale cosmetics in the pores to choke them. Soon she discovers enlarged pores—tiny blemishes—blackheads, perhaps. This choking of the pores has caused the warning signals of Cosmetic Skin to appear.

Cosmetics Harmless if removed this way

To guard against this distressing modern complexion trouble, thousands of women are adopting Hollywood's beauty care. Lux Toilet Soap is made to remove cosmetics thoroughly. Its ACTIVE lather sinks deeply into the pores, swiftly carries away every vestige of dust, dirt, stale cosmetics.

Before you put on fresh make-up during the day—ALWAYS before you go to bed at night, remove stale make-up thoroughly with Lux Toilet Soap. Then you can protect your skin—keep it lovely.

Of course I use rouge and powder, but I use Lux Toilet Soap so faithfully I'll never have Cosmetic Skin

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

Of tarts the Tines had their fill, and Scouty said, "I guess I will roam 'round the castle for a while, to see what I can see."

The queen replied, "Well, I don't mind. Go on and see what you can find. The dishes I must wash, so I'll be busy as can be."

"Oh, I will help you," Doty cried. Then Goldy rushed up to her side, and shouted, "So will I. The boys can do just as they please."

So off the other Tines went, and 'bout a half an hour was spent in looking 'round. Then Scouty said, "I heard somebody sneeze."

"It came from right inside that door. Come on, that's where we will explore," they pecked inside. Guess what they found. It was the Knave of Hearts.

Said Scouty, "You were punished, son, for something you should not have done, but now it's over. Here, I have brought you some tasty tarts."

"I've learned my lesson," said the boy. "I'm sure I never will annoy the queen or king with crazy stunts again. Thanks for the treat."

The Tines wandered on their way and shortly heard wee Duncy say, "I've seen enough of this place, lads. Let's hike out to the street."

They met the Tiny girls outside, and in one voice the whole bunch cried goodby to both the king and queen. The queen yelled, "Come again."

This time it was a funny man. Up to him all the Tinies ran. "I am a crooked man," exclaimed their new friend. "Follow me."

"Not far from here, I have a hut. I'd tell you all about it, but I would spoil the thrill that you will get when my fine place you see."

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 26.—Plans for the Fourth of July celebration here were outlined at the weekly luncheon meeting of the chamber of commerce yesterday. Warren Bristol, president of the chamber, told of his recent airplane trip to Colorado.

The members came dressed in Mexican costumes in celebration of the Fiesta De La Plata, the city's 25th anniversary since incorporation, which will reach its climax with the Fourth of July program.

The Fourth of July program will begin with a parade in the morning led by Councilman John H. SPECIAL DIVISION PLANNED FOR COMMERCIAL FLOATS IN NEWPORT BEACH TOURNAMENT

NEWPORT BEACH, June 26.—Commercial floats entered in the Tournament of Lights parade this year will be segregated into a special division, it was decided at a general meeting of the Tournament committees Monday night. Considerable discussion was provoked by a motion introduced by J. E. Lannon, of the tournament, on the ground that they discouraged amateur or corinthian entries.

The motion found champions in Joe Beck and H. Marshall, who argued in its favor, following the disclosure by Irving George Gordon, general chairman for the event, that application for entries had been received from the Gilmore, Union, Gedrich and several other large firms in Southern California. It was defeated by a vote of 21 to 3, with the provision to provide classified divisions for the parade.

A move to allow Balboa Island the privilege of forming its own parade of entries for the event was proposed by Joe Beck, who said the island was entitled to a special division and was passed unanimously by the meeting. The plan calls for the island group to form on the bay below Agate street, and to proceed toward Lido Isle at 8 o'clock the night of the 25th, joining the main procession there.

might a-knowed that's what I'd get for my trouble! He was only tryin' to help you. That's all the thanks I get! But what should I expect of a man who'd marry his cousin—?

Bill did not want. He tore through the office and into the street. If the sleigh he urged the horses to a speed that was reckless on snow-covered roads. He did not know what he was going to do or what he would say to the woman who had destroyed his faith, who had torn his heart into bits and crushed them. His blood was pounding against his ears and his body, bathed in perspiration, alternately shook with cold and burned with fever.

God, what an awakening from a fool's paradise! And she had insisted there had been no other man in her life before she met him! Lies—all her promises had been lies!

How long would it be before he was the laughing stock of the county? Not that that mattered. It wasn't what people said or did that hurt, but the fact that Madeline and he were through. He would never hold her in his arms again, never kiss those soft red lips. Why had she married him? Had she loved him so much that—? No, he musn't think of that. He must not try to excuse her. He must crush his love for her. If he didn't he would go mad!

SIGNS OF DISILLUSIONMENT APPEAR IN GERMANY

The German people have entered upon the era of disillusionment to which they have been foredoomed. The announcement of the day that Chancellor Hitler's rule has ended may be a bit premature. There is no doubt, however, that Von Papen's address of Sunday week has been food for thought among the German people, for despite the censorship placed on the dissemination of the address, it was heard and knowledge of it has spread among the people who had already shown indication of a critical attitude.

The German people already have indicated that the period of mass worship of Hitler has passed. The recent factory elections were so unfavorable to the National Socialist party that they have not dared to publish the results. Enough facts on the voting have come out to indicate a trend. The voters were watched as carefully as is customary in a dictatorship where votes are manipulated to indicate great confidence in the authority in power. Only one set of candidates was submitted to the voters. At the armament factory of Fritz Werner, Berlin-Mariefelde in which there are 1500 workers, 150 voted "no," 250 crossed out the list, 400 altered the list on the ballot and only 700 voted for the candidates. The Trans-Atlantic Information Service is authority for the information, that in the publishing house of Illstein, in Berlin only 2070 valid votes out of a total of 4000 were cast, and that of 500 votes at the Volkswohlversicherung only 174 were in favor of Nazi candidates. At the Plinius factories near Berlin the employees refused to vote. In other factories in Berlin it is reported that the total votes for the Nazi party were only one-third of the total. In the textile works of Povel and Company, located at Glauerburg, near the German-Dutch frontier there are 2300 workers. Only 1351 took part in the election and only 700 cast votes for the Nazi party.

Furthermore, in the face of censorship, a group of German people have bestirred themselves to print a newspaper, 3 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches, the print of which is so small that it must be read with the use of a microscope. The paper has four pages.

These are promising signs to those who have wondered that a people as intelligent as the German people would surrender practically all of their rights to a demagogue whose program engendered bitter hatred.

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCES A STRAIN ON THE RESOURCES OF SMALL NATIONS

It has been said that a certain small European state allowed its delegates but $20 per day for expenses at the Geneva disarmament conference. After a month, that amount was cut in two; and the delegates had to move out of their first class hotel to a second class hotel. Further cuts were made the next month, and the delegates moved into a boarding house. After more than a year's session of the disarmament conference, they must be finding accommodations on the benches of free parks in Geneva.

We cannot vouch for the truth of the incident. We are very certain, however, that such prolonged conferences must be a strain on poverty-stricken countries. Now if the disarmament conference should begin by deciding by lot that some nation participating in the conference should sacrifice one battleship, it would support all the delegates at the disarmament conference for the long period of the session.

The people of the nations are getting tired of these disarmament conferences. They start in hope and they end in defeat. So intertwined are the interests of the nations, and so jealous are they all of their honor and prerogatives, that nothing ever seems to come out of them. There is much talk, but little real action. Charles G. Dawes is credited with the statement that the best diplomats at these conferences are those who use their feet rather than those who use their heads. "Gumshoeing," as it was once called, is still an important factor at such conferences. Direct constructive action seems well-nigh impossible.

Practically all the great powers talk peace and disarmament; and all of them, including the United States, keep on building war machines. The congress just adjourned has appropriated larger sums for naval construction than any congress which has preceded it. When will the folly end? And when will the nations tackle the economic problems which create the situation that makes great armaments necessary?

THE COLLEGE GRADUATE AFTER TEN YEARS

The Princeton college class of 1924 has been trying to find out what its members have been doing and what they have accomplished in the first ten years out of college. Some of the facts gleaned are of interest.

The investigation reveals that the average salary pulled down by the members of this class is $4,739 per year, and they realize $1414 per year from their investments. That does not look so good. Princeton is called a rich man's college. The supposition is that many members of this class must pull down incomes very much above this average. This reduces the average for the poorer members to a much lower sum. In terms of 1928 and 1929 incomes, this average is not so high. If it shows the income during the last few years of depression, it can hardly be called low. But there are other features of interest in the investigation. Insurance men lead in average income, — $8,322. Not so bad. Ministers are lowest, — an average of $2,125. Not so good. But the doctors do not fare much better, with an average of $2,753. Real estate men average $7,533. Lawyers average $4,222. These figures may make a choice of calling a bit easier for some who are uncertain now.

But, with all the changes of fortune, all but six of the 242 graduates would go to college again if they had their lives to live over; and 91 per cent would choose to go to Princeton again. There is something revealing in such investigations which ought to be of value for those planning life careers.

ANARCHY COVERS THE WATER FRONT

A longshoremen's strike is in progress on the waterfront extending from Canada to Mexico; every paper carries stories of armed camps established by the employers; special officers are hired; guns bristle on every wharf and every ship is a floating arsenal.

Striking workmen and their sympathizers parade the streets, engage in fights; one paper states that the strikers have an old boot-legger's launch filled with armed men to terrorize those who would work. Police with tear bombs are called almost hourly to quell riots, etc.

Where is this? In Russia? In Mexico? In Cuba?

No, gentle reader, this is occurring in the good old U. S. A.

The mayors of our cities, the governors of our states are in charge of our law enforcement. No employer should be ALLOWED to have a special police force. NO MAN, UNION OR OTHERWISE, HAS THE RIGHT TO OBSTRUCT OR HINDER THE MAN WHO WANTS TO WORK.

As officials, gentlemen, you are not supposed to take sides but YOU ARE SUPPOSED TO KEEP ORDER. You are supposed to protect life and property. You are supposed to keep your oath.

Cause and Effect

San Diego Union

For political reasons Chicago's building department employed an inspector who, according to the New York Times, readily admitted that he knew nothing about the work to which he had been assigned. Recently a water tank on a building which he had "inspected" crashed down through several floors, killing five persons and injuring a number of others.

Fate here decreed that cause and effect should be dramatically linked. The world is thoroughly familiar with the financial costs of Chicago's refusal to insist upon honest, competent municipal government. The death and destruction in this minor catastrophe reveals another almost equally familiar cost.

Every detail of the condition which produced this accident could have been corrected if these five victims had understood that they were signing their own death warrants when they endorsed Chicago's system of political paternalism.

Politics looks after its friends in Chicago. Probably the "leader" of the district where this accident occurred knew the names of each of the victims, hailed them cordially when he passed them on the street, listened to their troubles, found them jobs if they could find him a handful of votes. He represented "government" to these citizens, personified it, gave it substance. And also he was their final enemy.

When he listed a malt salesman as a structural expert he destroyed the one safeguard which happened to be vital to them. For in Chicago and, for that matter, in San Diego, the dealer in patronage also deals in the health and sometimes in the lives of all his fellow citizens.

Language Confusion

Sacramento Bee

Recent events in Belgium—indeed, many events not so recent—serve to show Americans how fortunate we are that from the Pacific to the Atlantic most of the people of this country speak approximately the same language.

In Belgium, which is the size of one of our smaller States, there have been for many years two languages, French and Flemish, the respective users of the two languages being about equal in number.

Practically ever since Belgium was created as a buffer state to keep Germany away from the shores of the English Channel the proponents of Flemish and French have been engaged in political war. Governments have fallen, universities have been closed and military crises have been brought about by the controversy. French, however, generally had the best of it, having been the official language of the courts, etc.

But now comes news that Flemish has been given official recognition, and from now on will enjoy equal rights with French in courts and legislative bodies.

Thus ends a situation which probably has had but one American parallel, that furnished by New Mexico, where for many years legislative and other official procedure has been bilingual, the two tongues being English and Spanish. And the large Flemish population of Belgium is said to have concluded that secession and joining with Holland (Dutch and Flemish are very similar), at last is unnecessary.

Radio Guide Too Accurate

San Francisco Chronicle

And now the Bureau of Lighthouses is warning mariners to be cautious of lights because the radio beacon is too accurate. The occasion is the recent sinking of the Nantucket Lightship by a liner after several other steamers had narrowly escaped the light vessel. Ships follow the radio beam, but they must not follow it too closely or they will run into the lamp. Nothing could prove better the superaccuracy of this new guide to mariners.

A LITTLE MORE PEP

After reading a suggestion that Congressmen dress their act a little more.

The Senate is mildly imposing, but little its denizens care When engaged in debate Upon matters of state What the well turned out Solon should wear. The Members of Congress who labor In the chamber beyond the great dome, Are commonly clad In worsted or plaid, Much the same as they wear around home.

Why not vary this commonplace raiment As their dignified tasks they go through? Why not doff grays and browns And wear colorful gowns Of some lovely and radiant hue? Then the visitors, straining to hear them, With pride and delight in their eyes, Will shower applause On the factors of laws, And murmur, "Them sure is great guys!"

We fancy we're all democratic And hate any kind of display, But we'll dash down the street Upon hurrying feet To a circus parade any day. If the Solons want thousands to cheer them (Which they do, as I happen to know), They will not grudge and prose While their auditors doze, But put on a snapper show.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

STABILIZING THE NRA

As I write General Johnson has just met in conference with some thirty national business leaders at Hot Springs, Virginia, to consider the future of the NRA and the relation of business leadership to its continuance and its future forms.

Out of that conference came, as reported in the press last week, four major conclusions:

(1) Quite apart from whether government is in the hands of brain trusters or bourbons, government concern with the nature of business organization must be assumed for the future.

(2) Business leadership looks ahead, not to the abandonment but to the redefinition, refinement, readjustment and rearrangement of NRA policies and procedures in the months just ahead.

(3) The judgment of business leadership should be brought more effectively into play in this readjustment process.

(4) The proposed permanent board of five business or industrial leaders, advisory to NRA, should be fully and fairly representative of American business.

This new may be either salutary or sinister.

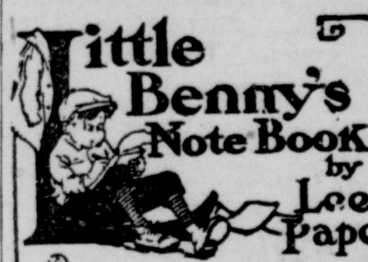

It is sinister if business leadership seeks to bend the NRA more fully into an instrument for restricting production and raising prices, for fortifying existing business practices by wiping out competition in reducing costs of production, and for subsidizing the mine-run of mediocre management which would be pleased to have prices fixed for it to make profit on its only fair capacity for production and distribution.

It is salutary if business leadership means by it that business should concede the necessity for the government to impose upon business, industry and finance certain minimum economic policies that will seek to bring our capacity to purchase into such relation to our capacity to produce as will keep our industrial system a going concern by creating an adequate market for its output, leaving business management free from the importunate regimentation of detailed administration by men who know nothing of business.

As I said the other day, government is going to play a larger role in economic affairs, whether we like it or not. It is now a question of finding the right respective roles for public government and private business. If either steals the show we are sunk. Let government light the way to a socially sound distribution of the national income through what we do respecting wages, hours, prices and profits, and give to business a free hand in doing it.

"I need the car tonight, ma."

"Don't give it to him, ma. He knows perfectly well that I have to have it tonight. He wants to take Priscilla to the dance. The leaves me and Charlie out. He had the car last time. It's my turn. He never even thinks I might want the car. Just himself."

"What's the matter with Frank getting his father's car to take you? Why should dad pay for a car for him? He has enough to do to pay for his own children. Don't you worry about them, ma."

"I'm as much dad's child as you are. I've rights as well as you have. He had the car last time, ma."

"What of it? Doesn't the boy have to supply the car to take the girl? What's the matter with Frank?"

"His father says he is too young to drive a car unless he is with him and he can't go with him tonight."

"Some excuse. If he's old enough to take you to a dance—"

"There, there, Charles. Your sister has some right in the matter. I'm not sure that Mr. Carson isn't wise in refusing to allow Frank to go out alone at night."

"There. Now I hope you're satisfied. You've got mother scared to death. For that I hope you never get the car. You needn't be afraid of my driving, ma. I've never even scratched a mud guard."

"Now have I? And I'll bet I've driven more miles with that car than dad has. He always lets me drive when I'm with him. If I couldn't drive I wouldn't ask to use the car. I have some sense."

"Well, I'm sure I don't know. Sometimes I get so worked up about the whole business, one saying one thing and another the other thing—I wish there were no cars on this earth."

"My a parent has wished the same thing. Watching the younger generation rolling by I've come to the conclusion that they are as much at home behind the wheels as their elders are. A boy in his late teens is as good a driver as he will ever be, if he is a driver at all. His eye is keen and his nerves are steady and he knows no fear. That's more than we can say for ourselves. Accl-

dents? I don't know but from casual observation the young people have no more of them than their elders.

These young people were born into a world of motors. To them there are as commonplace as horses were to their elders. We are still in awe of the machine they represent but the children see nothing unusual in them. They fill up the tank and turn the switch in much the same spirit that their fathers fed Dobbin and hitched him up for a ride.

Responsibility is the test for the youthful driver. What are his habits, his characteristics, his health? How responsible is he?

Character, not age, decides these questions about driving cars, going out nights, using lathkeys and taking over the responsibilities of maturity. No character, no privileges. The standard might be applied to some of the adults without detriment to the social fabric.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)

Thoughts On Modern Life

STABILIZING THE NRA

As I write General Johnson has just met in conference with some thirty national business leaders at Hot Springs, Virginia, to consider the future of the NRA and the relation of business leadership to its continuance and its future forms.

Out of that conference came, as reported in the press last week, four major conclusions:

(1) Quite apart from whether government is in the hands of brain trusters or bourgeois, government concern with the nature of business organization must be assumed for the future.

(2) Business leadership looks ahead, not to the abandonment but to the redefinition, refinement, readjustment and rearrangement of NRA policies and procedures in the months just ahead.

(3) The judgment of business leadership should be brought more effectively into play in this readjustment process.

(4) The proposed permanent board of five business or industrial leaders, advisory to NRA, should be fully and fairly representative of American business.

This news may be either salutary or sinister.

It is sinister if business leadership seeks to bend the NRA more fully into an instrument for restricting production and raising prices, for fortifying existing business practices by wiping out competition in reducing costs of production, and for subsidizing the mine-run of mediocre management which would be pleased to have prices fixed for it to make profit on its only fair capacity for production and distribution.

It is salutary if business leadership means by it that business should concede the necessity for the government to impose upon business, industry and finance certain minimum economic policies that will seek to bring our capacity to purchase into such relation to our capacity to produce as will keep our industrial system a going concern by creating an adequate market for its output, leaving business management free from the impertinent regimentation of detailed administration by men who know nothing of business.

As I said the other day, government is going to play a larger role in economic affairs, whether we like it or not. It is now a question of finding the right respective roles for public government and private business. If either steals the show we are sunk. Let government light the way to a socially sound distribution of the national income through what we do respecting wages, hours, prices and profits, and give to business a free hand in doing it.

"I need the car tonight, ma."

"Don't give it to him, ma. He knows perfectly well that I have to have it tonight. He wants to take Priscilla to the dance. That leaves me and Charlie out. He had the car last time. It's my turn. He never even thinks I might want the car. Just himself."

"What's the matter with Frank getting his father's car to take you? Why should dad pay for a car for him? He has enough to do to pay for his own children. Don't you worry about them, ma."

"I'm as much dad's child as you are. I've rights as well as you have. He had the car last time, ma."

"What of it? Doesn't the boy have to supply the car to take the girl? What's the matter with Frank?"

"His father says he is too young to drive a car unless he is with him and he can't go with him tonight."

"Some excuse. If he's old enough to take you to a dance—"

"There, there, Charles. Your sister has some right in the matter. I'm not sure that Mr. Carson isn't wise in refusing to allow Frank to go out alone at night."

"There. Now I hope you're satisfied. You've got mother scared to death. For that I hope you never get the car. You needn't be afraid of my driving, ma. I've never even scratched a mud guard. Now have I? And I'll bet I've driven more miles with that car than dad has. He always lets me drive when I'm with him. If I couldn't drive I wouldn't ask to use the car. I have some sense."

"Well, I'm sure I don't know. Sometimes I get so worked up about the whole business, one saying one thing and another the other thing—I wish there were no cars on this earth."

Many a parent has wished the same thing. Watching the younger generation rolling by I've come to the conclusion that they are as much at home behind the wheels as their elders are. A boy in his late teens is as good a driver as he will ever be, if he is a driver at all. His eye is keen and his nerves are steady and he knows no fear. That's more than we can say for ourselves. Accl-

dents? I don't know but from casual observation the young people have no more of them than their elders.

These young people were born into a world of motors. To them they are as commonplace as horses were to their elders. We are still in awe of the miracle they represent but the children see nothing unusual in them. They fill up the tank and turn the switch in much the same spirit that their fathers fed Dobbin and hitched him up for a ride.

Responsibility is the test for the youthful driver. What are his habits, his characteristics, his health? Not as to these questions about driving cars, going out nights, using headlights and taking over the responsibilities of maturity. No character, no privileges. The standard might be applied to some of the adults without detriment to the social fabric.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)

Here and There

Pins were known as early as 1347 A. D.

Mary Fallon, quarantined for life on a island in East River, N. Y., was known as "Typhoid Mary." She was immune to the disease herself, but was found to be a human typhoid carrier, endangering public health through food she handled in her occupation as a cook.

Dec. 21, 1620, was the date of the landing of the Pilgrims on Plymouth Rock.

Joel Roberts Poinsett, first American minister to Mexico, found the poinsettia growing there and introduced it to botanists in 1835. The plant was known as "Mexican fire plant" in its native land.

So closely related are the two languages that natives of New Zealand find it possible to talk with the natives of Hawaii on meeting.

Altitude flights are usually made in winter rather than in summer, because there is less violent contrast between temperatures at high altitudes and those on the ground.

Jack Johnson, a former world's champion boxer, was issued a patent on a monkey wrench at one time.

The average weight for new born babies in the United States is 7 pounds 4 ounces for boys and 7 pounds for girls.

The number "two" was once regarded as cursed because it was the first departure from unity.
